PRESIDENS WILL AID EASTERN OREGON

Portland, Sept. 1 .- The Journal said ast night:

If the plans of President W. J. Kerr of the Agricultural college, work out as he hopes and expects they will, eastern Oregon will blossom like the proverbial rose and in a few years be as important from an agricultural standpoint as is now the Hood River

President Kerr, who is in Portland ind stopping at the Portland hotel, briefly explained his plan and outlined low he proposes to go about it to acomplish the hoped-for results. . He stated that the first thing he wants to do is to make a trip over the eastern part of the state to see just what is needed to be done.

He will probably start on this tour of inspection in about a week or 10 days and will be accompanied by two three professors from the college, and possibly by two experts from the United States department of agriculture. He stated that he was in communication with the department with a view to getting an expert in dry farming and one in irrigation to accompany him, and expected to receive a definite reply within two or three days,

To Carry on Experiments. The eastern part of Oregon, President Kerr says, is rapidly settling up with farmers from the western part of the state and from other states. Many of these farmers are inexperi--ced in farming under the conditions which prevail in eastern Oregon and don't know how to go about it to obtain the best results. The object of the work which he has planned is to arry on a series of experiments with a view to discovering what are the best methods to be used in that section of the state. "For 'nstance," said President Kerr,

I understand that some parts of eastern Oregon are ideal for fruitgrowing. Put they are very different from the lighter, from 3500 to 4000 feet above sea level, and climatic conditions are very different. In fact, different secas to elevation, soil and climate. Some can be farmed without irrigation while in other places water must be applied. Our object is to find out just what crops will do best in the various sections and whether dry farming or irrigated farming would be most profitable.

Co-operate With Department.

"I have a plan outlined for the work but I prefer to say nothing about that until I have had an opportunity to go over the ground and see conditions as they are and find out what is needed. But my plan I think will cost the state almost nothing, for I believe we can get the department of agriculture to co-operate with us in the work and share the expense.

"It is possible that an experiment station may be established in Umatilla county, and there may be sub-stations in other parts of eastern Oregon. That, however, is one of the matters to be decided after I have made my trip through that part of the state to

CURES

No old sore can heal until the cause which produces it has been removed, External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., may reduce the inflammation and assist in keeping the place clean, but cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach its source. Old sores exist because the blood is infected with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the place. The nerves, tissues and nores of the llesh are kept in a state of irritation and disease by being daily fed with the germ-laden matter through the circulation, making it impossible for the sore to heal. S. S. cures chronic sores by its purifying action on the blood. It goes down into the circulation, and removes the poison-producing germs, impurities and morbid matters which are responsible for the failure of the place to heal. S. S. S. makes the blood pure, fresh and healthy; then as new, rich blood is carried to the spot the healing process begins, all discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, new tissue begins to form, the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh, and soon the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is parely vegetable, the saiest and best blood purifier for young or old. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.
