TAFT EXTOLLED - BRYAN FLAYED

The democratic party seeks, as Bryan construes the platform, to overthrow protection and establish a revenue tariff threatening the dislocation of trade and the most serious disturbance of industry. It seeks not tariff revision, but tariff revolution.

The plan proposed by the democratic platform to provide for the guarantee of bank deposits is also open to serious objection. Mr. Taft promptly pointed out its weakness and Bryan has been unable effectively to answer his criticism. The plan proposes to make the honest and prudent banks meet losses for which they are in no way responsible. If the plan is a good one for banks, why should it not be applied to insurance companies? They are chartered by the state and are subject to its full supervision. But what would be thought of a proposition to compel a well-managed and conservative life insurance company to make good the losses sustained by those insured in other companies that become insolvent?

It may be added that a guarantee fund, if established on a scale sufficiently large to insure the required protection, would furnish difficulties both in regard to its investment and its availability in cases of emergency.

The republican party has been solicitous of the rights of labor; for instance the re-enacted employers liability act, the safety appliance act, the government employees' compensation act, the investigation of mine disasters and the legislation with respect to child labor in the District of Columbia.

Taft has exposed the disingenuousness of the platform that "injunctive should not be issued in any cases in which injunctions would not issue if no industrial disputes were involved," a Janus-faced proposal, meaning what you like. It profits little to the workman to be told that he will be given the right to a trial by jury in case he is guilty of contempt of court, if those who promise it propose to enter upon a fatuous course or arbitrary interference with trade.

But while we freely criticize the opposing programs and candidates, we as freely recognize that no party has a monopoly of patriotic motives or of sincere endeavor. We criticize each other without bitterness, realizing that in the contest of public discussion, we find the surest protection of our institutions.

CUMMINS SHOWS TACT.

If Cummins is Short Term Man and Falls at Primaries, Will Resign.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 5.—Governor Cummins today issued the statement:

"If I am elected to the senate for the short term, and not the choice of the republicans at the November primaries, I will resign and use my influence and support the election of the nominee receiving the greatest number of votes."

The statement is calculated to offset the efforts of the stand-patters to delay the selection of a senator by the legislature until after the November election.

Forty-eight of the stand-patters who held the republican caucus nominating Governor Cummins for the senate yesterday, today held a meeting and decided to oppose the election of Cummins Wednesday. If the stand-patters are forced to vote, they will divide their strength between the candidates, making a deadlock, and preventing a decision.

POOR STARVE; NOBLES FEAST.

Rioters in Glasgow Attack Prince Arthur, Who is Visiting There.

Glasgow, Sept. 5.—Thousands of hungry socialists stormed the hall where Prince Arthur is the guest of honor at an elaborate luncheon today, and tried to mob the prince, but were driven back by the guards. Many were injured in the fighting. The trouble followed the cries of denunciation against the managers of the city corporation for the extravagance of the luncheon.

The socialists shouted that thousands were hungry, and held meetings of protest. The attack followed and they were driven back by bayonets and clubs. The socialists followed the officials, and under the protection of guards proceeded to the city hall. Jeers and hoots followed the procession all the way.

Young full-grown grouse are now being seen in the Blue Mountains.

HAVE YOU SEEN The Great Remington Repeating Hammerless Shot Gun

One of the greatest Guns ever made. Contains features never embraced in shotgun construction. It has a solid breech; the loading and ejecting is done through opening under the receiver, thus allowing the shooter a clear aim. The hammerless feature eliminates all danger of accidental discharge, and there are half a dozen more features just as important. It is so good that it will be a pleasure to show it to you, whether you want to buy or not.

A REAL SPORT.

Devotes $41,000 for a Few Days' Sport in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Sept. 5.—Eleven thousand dollars is a mere handful of money to see the sights of San Francisco, according to Duke Ferdinand Mont Penser, who is a cousin to the king of Spain, and son of Louis Philippe d'Orleans, pretender to the throne of France. He is going to Del Monte and back in an auto. He goes to Mexico and then to Vancouver, B. C. on a hunting trip.
