BRICK IS CHEAPER

Brick building, at the present price of lumber, is cheaper as well as better. It has been demonstrated that my brick is superior to any made in Oregon. I can furnish common brick in any quantity. No order too large or too small to receive prompt attention. Correspondence with contractors and builders solicited. Estimates cheerfully furnished. Prices made known on application.

A FEW ASTERS WELCOMED

The matter of a street parade in connection with the coming aster show, and the exact date of the show itself, is yet undecided, and will remain so until after this evening, when the general arrangements committee completes its tour of inspection and canvass about the city. The inclement weather retarded action yesterday and only a small portion of the aster beds were visited. The remainder were visited today.

Few But Splendid.

Like all other products of the soil this year, asters are late. The striking fact which the committee discovered yesterday was that most growers are reticent about entering the contest—which is not for the Neighborhood Club alone—for the reason that they have but a few specimens. The committee announces today that almost invariably they found only a few asters, but these few of a high quality. They are richer and more farther developed than if the beds were more prolific. The keynote of the committee's wish is for every resident who owns asters at all, to bring the few they have. A genuine success of the Aster show depends on the readiness with which the numerous but limited donations of flowers are made. "Bring specimens, even if you only have a half dozen plants" is the urgent request of the general arrangements committee.

It has been found that the best and most healthy blooms will be at the height of their glory in about two weeks, and it is natural that the show will be held about that time. Full announcement will be made in The Observer as soon as the committee has completed its tour of inspection, and names the dates.

PENDLETON'S RECENT FIRES.

Surprisingly Large Sum Gone Up in Smoke at Hands of Firebugs.

Since the first of August approximately $35,000 worth of Pendleton property has gone up in smoke and the city has paid out $1000 to its fire fighters, says the Pendleton-East Oregonian.

"If the city had been equipped with proper fire apparatus, which would cost about $10,000," said Fire Chief John Vaughan this morning, "we could probably have saved half of that loss. Furthermore, if we had such apparatus, insurance rates in the city would be 14 per cent lower and property owners would save between $6000 and $7000 annually in insurance premiums."

For years the firemen of the city have been asking for better apparatus and regularly their requests have been denied by the city on the ground of economy. But during the past month the record of the department shows that it would have been more economical had their recommendations been granted.

Hal Bohnenkamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bohnenkamp, returned last evening from an extended visit to Seattle and other Sound cities. He saw Wallace Childers and Zimmerman in action with the Seattle baseball club and met John Fournier at Aberdeen.
