Mrs. Lund Injured.
 While Mrs. Chris Lund and Mrs. Robert Cook and Clayton Coalwel were returning from La Grande Wednesday evening, their horse became frightened between the Oro Dell bridge and the old electric light building, running into the fence and throwing the ladies out. The horse broke loose and ran home. The ladies started to walk home, but were met by Mr. Lawrence Robertson and Gilbert Nelson, who let the ladies have their rig to go home with. Mrs. Lund received several bruises. Mrs. Cook was cut quite severely by coming in contact with the wire fence. While little Clayton received no injuries at all. The rig and harness were damaged quite badly.

Ramsey-Oldenburg Company Will Enter National Contest.

When the National Fruit show opens in Spokane early in December, La Grande apples to the number of a dozen select boxes at least, will be on the competitive table, according to a decision of the Ramsey-Oldenburg Co., which will enter the contest for honors. That Grande Ronde fruit will take a prize and perhaps one near the top of the list, is a foregone conclusion, and the fruitgrowers cannot afford to miss this opportunity of advertising their wares. It was stated some time ago, that several growers of the Cove district will enter this contest and now the La Grande dealers are going to help represent what is rapidly coming to be known as one of the leading apple-growing districts of the northwest.

The things is of too great consequence to be let dropped without heed. The Observer has received many favorable answers as to the general popularity of the plan and it can safely be predicted that the excursion will be run.
