Fourth Season of Success.
The advertised engagement of Luella Morey in Clarence Bennett's great play, is worthy of the attention it excites. Men will ever differ in opinions, but truth is acknowledged even when convictions regret its brilliant uses. It is difficult to conceive of anything but good coming from performances of "The Holy City." Hardened sinners cannot dispute its facts; humble sinners will accept its teachings, and sanctified saints may gain instead of losing if they absorb the play from the rising of the curtain until it closes to view the artist-author's dramatic and picturesque story of Jerusalem, its people, its sorrows and its joys. The fourth season of this remarkable drama is great in its achievements. Manager Steward should be thanked for again securing the splendid tragedy and company. "The Holy City" will be at the Steward October 9.

Standard Interests at Baker.
The Standard Oil Co. has purchased one acre of ground in the Ottenheimer addition to Baker City, and will at once begin the construction of storage tanks and other improvements for the storing and distributing of oil throughout this section of the state. This is certainly complimentary to Baker City, for the great monopoly is so shrewd and far-seeing that it will

SINGERS THAT ARE ARTISTS.

Either collectively, or individually, the quartet that comes here tomorrow night from the Conried Metropolitan Opera company, stand as artists in their respective lines. The following comments speak words of praise for the musicians:

Martin has a powerful tenor voice, virile and beautiful.—Denver Daily News.

Campanari, as the vengeful, sardonic Tonio, was as usual thoroughly satisfactory. Few can equal his singing the "Prologue." He voices its emotion with deep sympathy and understanding.—Chicago Journal.

Madame Rappold is a high soprano, whose flexible, limpid voice, peculiarly fresh and youthfully appealing in timbre, invariably rings true to the pitch.—New York Press.

Mrs. Jacoby came as a stranger before a Brooklyn audience, but has good reason to feel gratified with her success. She has a beautiful clear voice,
