BIG ROUNDUP NEXT WEEK

IRRIGATION COMMITTEES TO MAKE CLEAN-UP.

Indications Are That Big Majority of Required Amount of Land Will Be Subscribed in Less Than Two Weeks. Aim is to Have Work Practically Completed in Two Weeks—Work is Slow and Arduous, But Men Work Diligently.

At the close of next week the committees in charge of solicitation of land for the irrigation project, will be ready to report what success has met their energy expended in this line. Preliminary reports on this matter indicate that a large block of the total requirement—the 20,000 acres—will be subscribed at that time. As is known, the valley has been divided into three sections and members of each of the three committees are hurrying to their task that the work may be finished by one week from Saturday. Already the list has grown to pleasing proportions, but there is yet work to do that will require more than a week's time. Even at that date there will be outlying districts to visit, but the great bulk of the subscriptions will have been received, it is believed. On account of the quiet manner in which the committees have been planning the big round-up, the doubting Thomases have come to the conclusion the project is losing hold, but such is not the case.

The committees undertook a gigantic task and with every member of these committees busy men along individual lines, they cannot throw away personal interests entirely. Hence, the slow but certain progress. J. D. McKennon is now in Boise, where he will confer with men who own land in this valley. This in a measure tells the story of how the committees have to seek out the owner of certain tracts of land that lie in the path of the ditch, necessitating much time and effort.

Mrs. Nash Married.

Mrs. Laura D. Nash of this city, was married to F. J. Settle at 5 p. m., Saturday, October 17. The ceremony occurred at St. Luke's church, Tacoma. They will make their future home in that city. Mrs. Nash had been a resident of this city for a number of years and has many friends here, especially among the people of the north side of the river. She left here a month ago and her cottage is now occupied by J. N. Burgess and family.—Pendleton East Oregonian.

DINNER FOR "THE BOYS"

The W. R. C. will give a dinner to "The Boys" at high noon on Saturday. All members of the corps are asked to be present at that time and bring well-filled baskets. Then, of course, "the boys" themselves simply must attend this dinner for no one knows better than they how the W. R. C. can entertain.

Senator Cured Osteopathically.
A Washington dispatch of recent date states that Senator Money of Mississippi, recently went under osteopathic treatment and has been very much surprised at the findings of his new doctor.

It seems that the senator, then a cavalryman in the service of the Confederate states, was wounded and thrown from his horse at the first battle of Franklin. His head struck the ground violently. For very many years Senator Money has been a sufferer from neuralgia, and it now seems clear that the trouble had its original cause in that war-time fall.

At any rate, when the senator recently consulted an osteopathic physician, which he did upon the advice of Senator Foraker of Ohio, it was discovered that he was suffering from a mal-adjustment of the vertebrae of the neck. These vertebrae had evidently been forced out of position by some violent accident, as the displacement was very pronounced. (Some of the newspapers even declared, newspaper style, that Senator Money had clearly been getting about for years with "a broken neck.")

It is now plain that the neuralgia was entirely due to the mis-adjustment of the vertebrae, for speedy relief came when the manipulative work of the osteopath restored them to their normal places, and Senator Money is now in a fair way to be permanently cured of this ailment from which he has suffered for so many years. He had, of course, tried many ways previously in the hope of securing relief, but the real cause of the trouble—that mis-adjustment of the neck vertebrae—had escaped the notice of all his other physicians.

How did such a condition cause neuralgia? The answer is simplicity itself. The misplaced bony parts caused pressure upon certain nerves, with consequent nerve suffering, which is neuralgia. As soon as the pressure upon the nerves was removed by readjustment, the neuralgic condition began to disappear; for, in a human body which has any considerable degree of vitality left, it is a difficult matter for any ailment to continue very long after its cause has been removed.

Incidentally it may be noted that Senator Foraker, who suggested osteopathy to Senator Money, was one of the very early advocates of osteopathic treatment. Members of his family derived vast benefits from it and the Ohio statesman has ever since continued to be one of the staunchest supporters of the new system of healing.—The Right Way.
