AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

Stage Robbery at Pastime.

That Yellowstone park robbery which created so much excitement recently, will be shown at the Pastime tonight. The remarkable robbery will be thrown on the screen in true-to-facts style and that patrons cannot afford to miss this stage robbery of so recent date is a cinch. With the robbery as one of the head-liners the Pastime introduces its new program to the public and promises high class attractions from beginning to the end.

The house ad in this issue tells the story of the other splendid attractions. Don't fail to see the stage robbery; it is exciting to the extreme.

Like a Real Play.

"A Tramp's Christmas Eve" is the title of a vaudeville sketch at the scenic that is attracting much attention. Through an oversight the house ad was not changed yesterday, but tonight the readers can see the program which is filling that theater nightly.

RAY M'COY IN TROUBLE ONCE MORE

Raymond McCoy was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Stewart this afternoon, on a charge of burglary from a dwelling, said to have been committed on First street, in the home of Peter Gettrup. McCoy, with others, attacked Mrs. Gettrup and it is said, she is suffering considerably from injuries received by the assault. The case against McCoy is not so clear as it might be and though he has been bound over to the circuit court, there may yet be a flaw in the proceedings which will let McCoy out of what is really a serious predicament. Proof is not specific against McCoy. John Doe, et al, are mentioned in the complaint. McCoy's bond has not been met and he will in all probability await the action of a special grand jury by being confined to the county jail.

It is said the small children in the Gettrup home suffered with the mother, who is not gifted with a due amount of mentality. The children were buffeted about and considerably bruised by the actions of the men who were in a beastly state of intoxication.

Live this day as if it were the last.

FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON.

Miss Amelia Bramwell Laid to Rest—Impressive Services.

A large concourse of people met this afternoon in the L. D. S. tabernacle to pay their last respects to the late Amelia, daughter of President and Mrs. F. S. Bramwell, and sister of Benetee F. C. Bramwell. The services were most impressive. The altar and organ were draped in white, as so fittingly commensurate by one of our best of the speakers, as emblematical of her pure life. Miss Amelia was an active worker in her church and loved by all with whom she came in contact. Many followed the remains to the cemetery, and President and Mrs. Bramwell and the family have the deepest sympathy of this entire community in this hour of grief.

There were many from all portions of the valley who attended the funeral of the daughter of President and Mrs. Bramwell, this afternoon. It was one of the largest attended funerals in the city for many months.

There is more wood in the city at this time of the year than for several years, but it begins to look as though white, as so fittingly commensurate by one of our best
