TALK A LOGICAL ONE

Colonel Ivanhoe, president of the La Grande Taft-Sherman club, presided, Attorney C. E. Cochran introducing the speaker. The L. D. S. quartet sang several choice selections.

Judge McGinn covered exactly the points that were needed in this section and his witty remarks, pathos, logic and oratory were cause for frequent and prolonged applause. He said nothing to cause the least pain to those who entertain opposing political beliefs and paid the many socialists who were present quite a compliment for their lofty ideals of brotherly love, but predicted that the other parties would in time pick out the best of their ideas similar to the fate that followed the populist party a few years ago.

ENDORSEMENT TRICKERY

enforce the laws than I. This is true from Root's standpoint, as he began his career by defending "Boss" Tweed. Rockefeller is supporting Taft because the latter shows by his utterances he favors the trusts. Mr. Roosevelt demands the election of the man he named because he knows he prostituted the office of president by bringing it into the arena of politics.

Friends Continue Trick.

Cleveland, Oct. 31.—Relatives and close associates of Rockefeller declare today the announcement of his support of Taft was the logical outcome of his statement last fall. "It is foolish to suppose that Rockefeller made the announcement for the purpose of hurting Taft," said W. C. Rudd, Mr. Rockefeller's brother-in-law. "Rockefeller announced early in the campaign that he favored Taft and his support is merely of the party man and citizen. The statement that it was given in return for immunity is equally foolish."

GEO. EBLON BADLY HURT

This afternoon while turning the power turntable in the railroad yards, Hostler George Eblon's foot slipped and caught between the ends of a rail and the table, resulting in cutting a deep gash in the bottom of his right foot, about three inches in length and nearly two inches deep. He was placed on a stretcher by his comrades and carried to the office of Drs. Bacon and Hall, where his injuries were dressed. While quite painful, the wound is not considered of a serious nature, and it is expected that Mr. Eblon will be about within a few days, but it may be some time before he can resume his duties.

A boy killed a deer in an orchard almost within the city limits of Medford.
