While They Last

Ill Health is More Expensive Than Any Cure.

This country is now filled with people who migrate across the continent in all directions seeking that which gold cannot buy. Nine-tenths of them are suffering from throat and lung trouble or chronic catarrh resulting from neglected colds, and spending fortunes vainly trying to regain lost health. Could every sufferer but undo the past and cure that first neglected cold, all this sorrow, pain, anxiety and expense could have been avoided. Chamberlain's cough remedy is famous for its cures of colds, and can always be depended upon. Use it and the more serious diseases may be avoided. For sale by all good dealers.

How One Doctor Successfully Treats Pneumonia.

"In treating pneumonia," says Dr. W. J. Smith of Sanders, Ala., "I treat our offices in La Grande, Ore. Our only remedy I use for the lungs is Chamberlain's cough remedy. While, of course, I would treat other symptoms with different medicines, I have used this remedy many times in my medical practice and have yet failed to find a case where it has not controlled the trouble. I have used it myself, as has also my wife for coughs and colds repeatedly, and I most willingly and cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other cough remedy to my knowledge." For sale by all good dealers.

TYPICAL COLLEGE SHAPS.

University Glee Club Brings Air of Campus and Frat Rooms.

With the coming of the University of Oregon Glee and Mandolin clubs, La Grande people will once again have an opportunity of witnessing an entertainment out of the ordinary, something full of spirit and vigor.

There is no class of people on earth that carries a more distinctive air, that has a more typical bearing than the college students, and there is a particular charm about his actions, whether on or off the stage, which make him more than ordinarily interesting to watch.

The Oregon clubs are composed of typical students from a typical college and people who want a glimpse of real college life will not be disappointed in the men who represent the State university. On the other hand, those who love music for its own sake will find the concert all that can be desired. Prof. Glen is recognized as a musical director throughout the country, and he has had more talent and trained voices with which to work this year than in any previous season of the clubs. Critics who have seen the first concert of the clubs this year do not hesitate to proclaim them the best that have ever represented the University of Oregon. The stunts this year, too, are more than usually creditable. Mr. Voight's dialect monologues, one humorous and the other pathetic, are of such a quality that they would do credit to any professional impersonator. Van Dusen furnishes the most laughable element. He is a genuine comedian and never fails to strike a responsive cord of merriment.

Besides these leading stunts, Ogden and Geisler have a piano stunt which is a "take off" on the piano fiend, the convict quartet appears in a song and dance, and there are several comic songs by the whole club.

The mandolin selections, three in number, round out a well-balanced and thoroughly enjoyable program. Monday, December 21, at Stewart's opera house.

Baker After Branch.

Now that it is practically assured that a branch asylum is to be located some place in eastern Oregon, there is a number of Baker's business men who favor making an effort to have the institution located in Baker City, says the Herald. It is argued, and with considerable force, that this point is advantageous to eastern Oregon, and it is understood that a number of senators and representatives have expressed a favorable opinion regarding Baker as a proper place for the branch.

There will probably be some united action taken at once by the commercial bodies of the city on the matter, as every citizen is anxious to bring to this city that which will not only be of benefit in a local way, but will also be of benefit to entire eastern Oregon. Many things here are especially favorable for a branch of the state asylum, all of which will be thoroughly reviewed to the legislature at its coming session.
