Rev. W. L. Van Nuys of Pendleton, who has been assisting Rev. Seemann in special services in the Presbyterian church, returned home this morning. Rev. Van Nuys congratulated La Grande on its growth and progress since he was pastor here and he enjoyed his several days' visit among his old-time friends very much.

Although the rain fell in plenty yesterday, a good audience gathered to hear Mr. and Mrs. Harris in the special meetings in the Central Church of Christ. Mr. Harris spoke on "The Model Church" in the morning and on "The Fall and Redemption of Man" in the evening. He is a pleasant and forceful speaker. There is an earnestness backed by sincerity in his work. Thinking people will be pleased to hear him frequently. Mrs. Harris not only sings the sweet Gospel solos, but is a fine leader of the choir and congregation. She gets people singing all over the house. Services each evening at 7:30. Mrs. Harris wishes to meet school children at 3:40 each afternoon. Something special.

Justice of the Peace Angus Stewart today drew his jury list for the year, which comprised about 50 names of residents and taxpayers of this justice district. Recorder Cox drew his list as provided under our new charter, which, under certain conditions, gives the defendant a jury trial. The jury list of the county for circuit court will be drawn this week when the county court meets.

BIG SUM FOR NEEDY.

Congress Passes Bill Providing Aid for Italian Earthquake Sufferers.

Washington, Jan. 4.—A bill was passed today, first by the house, and later by the senate, providing for a half million dollars in cash and $300,000 in supplies, for the Italian quake sufferers.

This action followed a special message from President Roosevelt, asking that congress help the sufferers.

The Pastime.

Carpenters are busy today rebuilding the stage at the Pastime. This is done in order to make additional room that the vaudeville artists may have space in which to display their ability. Manager Eccles has decided to make the Pastime thoroughly up to date in every way, and realizes that the people of La Grande desire fresh, clean and thoroughly moral vaudeville. He has arranged with the very best booking agency to furnish him the best artists to be found on the Pacific coast and each week new faces will be seen at the Pastime. This evening Ross and Shaw, a musical team, will begin a week's engagement.

These people are classed as the leaders in their line and will surely give the patrons the full worth of their money. The price of admission from this date will be 15 cents for adults, and 10 cents for children.

The Scenic.

Patrons of the Scenic will be more than pleased to know that the two "best ever" teams, Brott and Mason and the Gilbert Sisters, will hold the boards this week. This famous combination has certainly found favor with the theater patrons of La Grande. They have several new acts for this week, and from their past success here there is every reason to expect something exceptionally strong. They have the ability and believe in giving their patrons the very best they have. Manager Gardiner says he has made every effort to adopt them for keeps, but as they are booked for Portland and San Francisco, and though they would "like to linger longer, they cannot longer linger." There will be a complete change of program for the motion pictures this evening.

Seidom, if ever, has there been so rich a line of comic operas and high-class plays before the Steward opera house as during the coming few months. Here is a partial list of the best attractions for the near future.

NO REPLY TO TELEGRAM

CITY OFFICIALS ARE STILL IN DARK ABOUT BONDS.

Chicago Bonding Company is Lethargic in Answering Correspondence—No Reply Whatever to Urgent Telegrams Sent to Them—Limit Expires January 20.

The city officials have received no reply to telegrams which were sent to the company in Chicago, whose bid was accepted on the Beaver creek bonds, informing them that in case action towards perfecting the contract was not entered into by the 20th of this month, the contract would be rescinded. Common courtesy would at least suggest a reply to the telegram, also to several letters of inquiry which were written the firm during the past few weeks. It is the feeling among the city officials that the company has so far failed to place the sale of the bonds and has passed it up. However, they would be entitled to an answer to their communications.
