FEW ARE IN SLOW CLASS

With but a few exceptions, business men realize the absolute necessity of paying their obligations to the La Grande Commercial club that daily is at a heavy expense in carrying out the boost projects and looking after the securing of new industries. The membership fees to the Commercial club are paid regularly, except in a few instances, where there is a noticeable apathy in this respect. The same thing is true of the boost fund which was subscribed last May for boosting purposes. The money thus subscribed has been well spent, and the club cannot exist without some support. With the beginning of the new year Treasurer Cleaver sent out notices of arrears and the response has been liberal. If the merchants and the public spirited men continue to pay their obligations to the club, that body will do even more for the city in the future than it has been in the short time that it has existed under the reorganization.

The house will be on the National Book association of Spokane and will introduce its new stunts this week. The theater itself has been remodelled to such an extent that a service-
