GREAT TRAIN IS PLANNED

Portland, Jan. 25.—(Special correspondence.)—One of the largest excursions that will visit the Pacific northwest this summer will be under the auspices of the board of trade of Worcester, Mass. Several days will be devoted to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition and visiting Portland and other cities of Oregon and Washington. Their own give club has been organized among the excursionists, and the itinerary mapped out covers more than 4000 miles of travel.

At their Portland meeting last week the Oregon State Retail Hardware and Implement Dealers' association extended its scope to include Washington, Idaho and Montana. More than 200 delegates were in attendance, but future conventions will be even larger with four states represented. Good Roads advocates especially appreciated the passing of a resolution favoring heartily the Good Roads legislation proposed in Oregon.

"I simply had to stop telling my friends where I was going," said a man from Kansas City, recently, "for when I spoke of the Pacific northwest everybody was so interested and wanted so much information that I wouldn't have had any time left for my own business had I undertaken to get it for them. You have no idea how many people are looking in this direction."

Various commercial bodies of Oregon and Washington are planning to get out leaflets to be used as a letter enclosure, emphasizing the wonderfully low colonist rates from the east—they are awaiting announcement of Atlantic coast and other points not yet decided by the Passenger association of the trans-continental roads. The $25 fare from Missouri river points; $20.50 from St. Louis, and $22 from Chicago is the lowest named for three years.

While the general rivers and harbors bill will not be passed by congress, the government will not let construction work now under way be sacrificed for want of a small appropriation. An emergency bill providing for absolutely necessary work will include the waterways of the Pacific coast.

REFEREE IS UPHELD

Judge Wolverton, of the United States circuit court at Portland, has handed down a decision sustaining the ruling of the referee in bankruptcy.

John Hodgins, in the case of the La Grande National bank against Trustee Duffy of the Hall-Damon bankruptcy. The litigation followed declaration of bankruptcy by the Hall-Damon firm over the loan of $1500, the trustee affirming the mortgage on a certain lot of potatoes being invalid. When the case reached Referee Hodgins he decided in favor of the bank. After months of delay, Wolverton has finally sustained the decision of the referee, the decision reaching here today.

SEEK NEWS OF LA GRANDE

"Reports from the Grande Ronde valley have been so favorable that I am contemplating together with others a visit to your section of the country in the near future, with the object in view of looking for a fruit ranch," writes C. A. Eford of Chicago, in a letter to The Observer. "Believing," he continues, "that your publication will carry numerous advertisements of real estate, as well as the names of reputable real estate dealers, I would thank you for a few samples of your daily."

This is but one example of what advertising will do; there is not a community or a city however far away, but what claims as citizens, men who are anxious to go elsewhere. It is to such especially that advertising becomes profitable business, for they are willing to pay for the data, that the Commercial club is supplying gratuitously.

METHODISTS DONATE.

Local Church Congregation Gives for Aid of Italian Sufferers.

The Methodist congregation yesterday in the M. E. church on Fourth street, gave cash donations to the Italian sufferers. All churches in the Idaho conference were called upon yesterday to give open-heartedly to the sufferers in Sicily and other southern Italy countries, where the earthquake and tidal wave destroyed and killed. The sum collected in the La Grande church was not remarkably large, yet big enough to be an aid to more than one sufferer.
