GEDDES BOSS DURING 1909

For the first time in local football a manager has been elected in the high school the year in advance of the season. Last evening, following school hours, all members of last year's squad that had a voice in the choosing of officials, met and elected Waldo Geddes manager of the 1909 team. This was done that games might be arranged with Portland and other big teams of the state, where the schedule is prepared the year before. With the captain already selected, the management for 1909 will be complete and in working order long before school calls next fall. Manager Geddes will proceed at once to plan out a schedule that will be the heaviest and most extensive of any that the local school has ever attempted.

MANY ATTEND DANCE. Hall Comfortably Filled With Trippers of Light Fantastic.

ment to the large orchestra. Musical organizations in this city of late have taken to expansion and perfection of their clubs, and within a short time there will be a nine-piece orchestra in this city as good as anywhere in the state. The music last evening was conducive of real amusement.

WILL BUILD BUNGALOW

The first real bungalow to be constructed in La Grande is now being planned and will be built during the coming few months on Seventh and O streets, by C. E. Happersett. The construction material is not decided, the builder being undecided between cement blocks and brick. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $2500, and will be built on plans distinctly bungalow. While there are several natty buildings in the city that approach this popular style of architecture, this will be the first one true in every detail to the southern fashion of building.

ACTIVITY AT OXBOW. Railroad and Power Project Are Working Large Crews.

T. W. O'Dell arrived in the city last evening from the Oxbow on Snake river, relates the Baker Herald. He reports great activity on the power project and also on the railroad. Snake river is booming now, having risen 20 feet and 6 inches in five days. The foundations for the large power plant are well under way and work has begun on the tunnel through which the Snake river will be diverted. They are working 150 men and could use more. They are now hauling out a carload of dump cars to use in carrying out the loose rock in the tunnel. In speaking of the large tunnel that the railroad is boring there, he says that they have about 800 feet to blast out before completing the big hole.

START MILL SOON. Logging Trains Filling the Mill Pond With Immediate Supply.

The logging train is again at work on the line between here and the Palmer junction and the Geo. Palmer lumber mill will resume its regular run just as soon as the log supply in the pond is sufficient to maintain a steady run. The officials do not know at this time just when that will be, but it is expected to be within a few days at the longest. The annual repairs have been made on the big mill and the company is ready to commence the new year's output of lumber.
