UNJUST TO FORESTRY BUREAU.

On several occasions in the past week members of the house indulged in vicious attacks upon the government forestry service, an annual castigation for which the debate on the agricultural appropriation bill furnishes the opportunity.

Insinuations with regard to the personal motives of Mr. Pinchot do not reflect much credit upon their authors, nor do they show a just estimate of public intelligence.

One of the congressional critics declared the bureau of forestry the most autocratic thing of the kind outside of Russia.

On account of the inspection of claims by forest officers, before they go to patent, a belief exists in some quarters that it is the policy of the service to make it as difficult as possible for people to secure claims.

Efforts to discredit the forestry service by calling attention to the appropriations for office equipment are in very bad faith. The bureau is young; it was organized in a small scale during the Spanish-American war, and it has never been fully equipped.

FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS.

At the last meeting of the executive council of the Modern Woodmen society, held at the headquarters of the society in Rock Island, Ill., it was decided to conduct that society's sanatorium, located at Colorado Springs, Col., for the treatment of members afflicted with tuberculosis, free of all charge to members.

The Modern Woodmen society, seven months since, acquired 1350 acres of land within seven miles of Colorado Springs, and has established thereon an up-to-date sanatorium. The first colony plan being employed. The first colony was opened for the reception of patients January 1, 1909.

The tents are rectangular structures, with shingle roofs, canvas sides, hard wood floors of solid cement foundations, heated by a central plant, equipped with all modern conveniences.

etc., stands in the center of the colony. The International Typographical union maintains a home and sanatorium for its members at Colorado Springs, and for the past number of years has been eminently successful in aiding its patients to recover their health.

REMOVE BODY TO ITS HOME

DONNELLY FUNERAL SET FOR TOMORROW AT TEN.

Remains of Late Conductor Donnelly Brought to La Grande Last Evening—Accident Occurred While the Train Was Running at a Slow Rate of Speed—Remarkable Circumstance.

At 5 o'clock last evening the remains of the late J. P. Donnelly were brought to La Grande by special train from Kamela, where the conductor met instant death yesterday.

Trainmen with the freight say it had not assumed a very rapid rate of speed, going about 10 miles an hour, when the accident occurred.

Remarkable Circumstance. When friends carried the mangled remains to the depot, they found the severed leg near the body with the shoe off one foot.

The face was easily recognizable. Apparently the end of a bolt pierced the skull in several places.

Last evening the remains were taken to the morgue, but this morning were removed to the Donnelly home.

Interment will take place tomorrow at 10 o'clock from the Catholic church, Rev. Father Whyte officiating.
