FRENCH OWNS PASTIME

Harris French is now sole owner and manager of the Pastime theater. A deal was negotiated today whereby C. P. Ferrin, former senior partner, retires at the end of the week and leaves the show shop in the hands of Mr. French, who during his connection with the play house has shown that he is fitted for his position. Mr. Ferrin is undecided as to what vocation he will pursue, having several propositions under consideration. For the rest of the week, he will remain with the Pastime.

SHOWING NEW STYLES.

W. H. Bohenkamp and Co. have added to their establishment a complete line of millinery. The opening of this department begins tomorrow morning and continues until after Easter. The window display of Easter hats is one of the finest examples of the window dresser's art ever seen in Eastern Oregon.

Some of the newer creations are nothing if not exquisite. A beautiful confection is the new auto hat, made of an inverted flat culander trimmed with pale blue cheese cloth. About the only incongruous note in the symphony of beautiful things is a winter hat, such as were in the height of style last season in La Grande. This one, which is all right, only a little out of date, closely resembles an inverted coal scuttle, and is trimmed with a feather duster, handle and all, ornamented with a bright egg beater. The trimming is of pink and white. The merry widow is extreme, even for the merry widow. Easter hose are also shown and contrary to the usual styles in spring hose, the patterns are very quiet in tone. Only some of them are wrapped with wire! The garters to be worn with the hose are of brass. Every lady in the city will want to view this display of the season's very best showings, and to accommodate them, Chase Bohenkamp, the artist responsible, says he will let the window remain as it is for some days.

CONTESTS CONTINUE

Notwithstanding that it was believed at one time that many of the suits filed by squatters in the 4-41 districts of Wallowa county, new suits are continually making their appearances. A continued hearing of a case started in Enterprise last week, was commenced here today. Cropper of Wallowa is the squatter who alleges he settled on the section in question and J. P. Montague is the defendant. The squatter's evidence was introduced at Enterprise and the timberman's was commenced here today.

Decisions from the department of the interior are anxiously awaited in any of these cases.
