SOCIETY.

John E. Page, his wife and son Bruce, were delightfully entertained at the Page home in South La Grande last evening at the instigation of Miss Adeline Little.

About 30 guests, old and young, were assembled to enjoy the festivities in honor of the family which departs soon for California to live permanently.

Parlor games and pleasant chats preceded the toothsome refreshments. Before the guests departed Mrs. Page was presented with a leather cushion cover as a token of the esteem which the family holds in the community in which they have lived for many years.
