A REAL LIVE LORD.
Chester Newlin, deputy in the sheriff's office, had an adventure a few days ago with a real live lord. English, "don't you know?"

A letter asking about the taxes on a certain parcel of Union county real estate was received from the owner, and the letter was signed—"Hon. . . . ."
The answering of such inquiries being his province, and not seeing quite why it is necessary for any bloomin' British to retain the full dignity of his bloomin' title when asking how much he is assessed on a piece of United States territory, Chet sat himself down and proceeded to answer my lord's question, beginning thus: "I, your most humble servitor, crave the exalted honor, etc., etc."

Back came a letter enclosing check for the amount of the tax, and our lordling so far unbenet as to enclose his card; presumably to exorcise to the menials whose duty it is to collect the taxes why they should accord him the full respect his position requires.

The card read—"Hon. . . . .", with a name for each blank. In the lower left hand corner were the specifications upon which the full title of the distinguished gentleman is built.

Needless to say, all the employes at the court house and those who were vouchsafed a glimpse of the precious bit of paper were duly impressed.

TIPS ON CARNIVAL.

Live Bills of the Booster's Bat That Will Interest You.

Appended are some real live tips on the coming carnival in this city: This is La Grande's first annual Spring Carnival. Better decide to help make it a success.

See the Lattipa leap of life. It might make your heart take on a little extra action for a period, but that won't hurt you. Then, even if it does, the sacrifice is worth while, because the loss will be a gain to the Carnival, and everybody is interested in its success.

Beno on the slack wire—Beno on the rings—worth while in any company. He is a free attraction. That is a pretty picture—that Path of Pleasure which the genius of C. W. Parker conceived as an entertainment maker for America to enjoy. And La Grande will enjoy it.

Here is the explanation of the most immediate, most substantial and most appealing plan for helping La Grande Go to the carnival, patronize and boost for it. This advice applies to all who have ideas directed toward building a greater La Grande. This is straight.

Study those trained wild animals, and then wonder the little developments the superior human race has made. The Carnival is a source of real education if you desire to take advantage of it.

Take the children, too. Don't be hoggish. The children are yearning to see the wild animals—they want the joy of the splendor of the Path of Pleasure, and if they can't in you, they will tell you they like La Grande. You are expected. Don't hesitate. Don't doubt. Your duty is plain. Be there.

REALLY UNION COUNTY'S.

Item From Baker is no Boost For Baker Says Subscriber.

(An Observer item of recent date.) Baker City friends of Ludwig W. Kemp, who is prospecting in the Greenhorn Mountains, are rejoicing today over a rich strike that is reported to have just been made on the west slope in what is known as the Wisconsin group of claims. The vein is said to be two and one-half feet wide carrying $45 in free gold and two and one-half ounces of silver to the ton.—Baker City Herald.

The above property is much nearer La Grande than Baker. Is in Grant Co. 12 miles from Austin and three miles from the Thomas ranch owned by W. C. Gibbs on the Middle Fork of the John Day River.

The Herald had no boost coming that time.
