Eighteen merchants of the city were victimized Saturday night by a man who claimed to be C. S. Cole, who passed forged checks on merchants, each check being $18, and numbered 13. The checks were all signed J. M. Rayburn and made payable to Cole. The officers are looking for the swindler today.—Walla Walla Bulletin.

If there was no Oregon, we would feel sorry for those people in the storm swept region of the east, but they do not have to remain there and if they prefer such conditions to our balmy spring. Why? Well, what is the use anyway, thousands are beginning to wake up and each thousand means others to follow.

It would be a surprise to not a few if the old Hunt grande would be used for the roadbed of a road from Grande Ronde valley to Walla Walla. There is something in the air that the men behind the guns are not ready to give out publicly. La Grande might as well keep in touch with this movement.

The world will heave a sigh of relief when the Sultan of Turkey is dethroned. He has been in the way of progress for a long time and the people have at last made a determined effort to secure liberty, with victory in sight.

The judge may scold the attorneys in the Calhoun case and the people may get disgusted at their wrangling, but every cloud has a silver lining, the court reporter can smile through it all, and it all goes to swell the folios.

Governor Hay, of Washington, may call a special session of the legislature. A Olympia dispatch says that he wishes to make all state officers appointive with the exception of the governor and lieutenant governor.

La Grande has one of the best bands in Eastern Oregon and when the new instruments and uniforms arrive, our band will be the pride of the county.

The park commission is busy. Soon Baker will have recreation grounds what all will be proud of.—Baker City Democrat.

A Baker City bank pays $1483.75 premium on $52,500 worth of city bonds, issued to pay for a new water system.

A San Francisco youth must undergo an operation for the removal of a silver dollar from his stomach.

Baker City will insist upon the most rigid cleanliness in the dairies which sell milk in the city.

Everybody is boosting for the irrigation project. This is the reason it is going to be a success.

The Farmers' Union at Helix buys food and coal for the members of the union.

Masons at The Dalles will build an addition to their hall.

Baker county wool is reported sold.

BANQUET TONIGHT.

Elaborate Reception in Honor of Prof. Hockenberry.

All the teachers of the city schools will attend a banquet at the Model restaurant tonight. The affair is in honor of Superintendent Hockenberry, and is given by the teachers, some of whom have worked with Mr. Hockenberry during all the seven years in which he has faithfully labored toward the upbuilding of the character and mind of the youth of the city. Covers will be laid for 26, and the program of toasts and speeches is quite elaborate.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to thank the many friends who gave such loyal and constant assistance to us, during the illness and death of our beloved wife and sister. Words can't in no wise express our appreciation of the many kind acts rendered.
