yard dashes will be run off this evening notwithstanding the cool weather, while the hurdles—both classes will be taken care of tomorrow forenoon. The demands came late and no time will be allowed for preparation.

WORRIES NOT

J. Q. A. Richardson is in from his farm in Lower Cove today. Mr. Richardson is a philosopher. When asked as to the condition of his fruit he said "I don't know. I never examine the fruit in my orchard, simply because there is yet lots of time for frost, and knowing in advance that I will have no crop adds nothing to my happiness. I just let the matter go." After I have prepared the ground, planted the seed, and done all I can do, it is not in my province to do any more.

UNCLE SAM TENACIOUS

Another land contest, in which the United States is a party is on in the land office today. This time suit is brought to cancel the homestead entry of John McCulloch. The land is in Wallowa county. The government alleges non compliance with the law in regard to residence and cultivation.

A big bundle of typewritten testimony, 428 pages, has been received at the local land office in connection with the case of the government against Judge Bean, et al of Pendleton. Umatilla people will await with considerable interest the decision of the local officials in regard to these cases.

FUTILE SEARCH

No one has yet been found who can tell anything of the friends or relatives of Fred Miller, the man who was killed at Hillgard yesterday morning. He was in the Van Duyn Realty company's office the night before he was killed and wanted a job as cook in Baker City nothing seems to be known of his antecedents, but it is said he was addicted to the use of liquor. The remains will be kept at least until tomorrow afternoon on the chance that relatives or friends will learn of his death and wish to take charge of the remains. If no one claims the body it will be buried by the county, as Miller had but $3.80 on his person when killed.

LOCAL TEAM TO SPOKANE

La Grande will play the Spokane high school football team at Spokane either on October 23 or November 25. This decidedly bracing news was received by Manager Geddes today and has set loyal followers to thinking and outlining the dope on what the chances are for winning. For a time it was thought that Spokane would come here on one of these two dates, but the latest from the inside is that La Grande is going to Spokane, a trip that will be enjoyed immensely by the members of the squad. There will be something to work for this year, most assuredly.

EVERYTHING O. K.

Manager Gardiner has the same story for patrons today—a program that will do you good. One of the King sisters, the finest actors on the Pantages circuit, is sick and cannot appear in public tonight, but hopes to be able to bow to an audience tomorrow afternoon. The Blossoms are always in favor and regardless of what their changes are, they always satisfy. The Kingsburys are no less popular as the week-end approaches. Brand new moving pictures to night

MUST SEND ACTUAL LIST

Generalities do not go with the management of the Walla Walla track meet and definite entries must be in their hands at once. Consequently all events where there is a serious dispute for places, must be run out by local squad members before tomorrow noon. The 50, 100 and 220
