STANLEY IS ON THE LIST

Fred Stanley, known to practically every business man in Oregon, and formerly part owner of the Grande Ronde Lumber company, took 10 shares in our irrigation project when the committee waited upon him in his Portland office Saturday. Very little effort was required to obtain his signature, for he was perfectly familiar with the conditions, and in fact was the first to point out the advantages of the site for a dam and reservoir, and to suggest the possibilities of the scheme.

Mr. Stanley remarked after he had signed the list, "That $1000 will be worth $2000 gentleman of the committee, much sooner than you realize. I know what water will do for the Grande Ronde valley and I know that you will be able to store more water than will be used at first, but it will not be long until there is a demand for it all."

NORTHWEST NEWS.

Ex-congressman J. N. Williamson last week sold 2200 sheep at Prineville for $3.25 per head.

Ellensburg is to have a new five-story hotel, to cost $125,000.

A corporation has been formed at North Yakima, capitalized at $100,000, to heat the city from one central plant. Other cities of the Northwest will watch the results with interest.

Mrs. W. T. O'Connell of Republic, Wash., was burned to death by her clothes catching fire from a bon fire. She suffered dreadfully for 48 hours.

Asotin fruit growers have succeeded in saving their fruit with smudges.

Work horses are reported scarce and high in the vicinity of Kooshia, Idaho, big teams bringing as high as $600.

150,000 fruit trees will set out this spring in the vicinity of Brewster, Washington.

The Farmers Union of Moscow has control of 75 per cent of the grain of Latah county, are dictating terms on sacks, and were in conference Friday with railroad officials relative to rates.

Bread is selling for ten cents a loaf or three loaves for 25 cents in Walla Walla.

CURIOUS FIND.
F. L. Ricker, of Redmond, was cutting post timber about two and one half miles from that place a few weeks ago and found imbedded eight inches in the wood a solid cast steel shot weighing four ounces. The shot was in perfect condition and is evidently from a small mountain howitzer which was probably taken through this section during some Indian outbreak and the gun being fired the shot found lodgment in the juniper tree where it remained until Mr. Ricker cut it out.—Laidlaw Chronicle.

Object to Strong Medicines.
Many people object to taking the strong medicines usually prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties. When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by All Good Druggists.
