Adler's Collegian Clothes

represents the highest type of ready to wear apparel America produces. The fabric, the linings, the tailoring and the fitting qualities are best appreciated when critically compared with the clothes of any other maker. The man who is painstaking in the selection of his clothes—who recognizes the real worth of a well made garment with which is combined the best features of present day fashion is the man whose attention we seek. Collegian clothes for Spring are now being shown by

EZRA MEEKER AT FAIR.

Will Reproduce in Miniature The Old Oregon Trail.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 26.—Two years ago Ezra Meeker, a pioneer of Oregon and Washington, demonstrated the possibility of a transcontinental highway by hitching two oxen to a "prairie schooner" of the olden days, and driving them from Seattle to New York City and return over what was known as the "Oregon Trail," in the days when men fared into the west by what means they could. His journey was watched with interest by every section of the country and, when he "whacked" his oxen into the national capital, on the return trip, President Roosevelt ran out of the White House to greet him and tell him of the great good that his remarkable trip had worked in the cause of more and better roads the country over.

Mr. Meeker was then 72 years of age, but hardy enough to make the long journey and, upon his return, to keep up his campaign for a "Camino Real, or King's Highway across the continent."

Now he is making use of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition to serve the same purpose. On the "Pay Streak," which is the Amusement way of Seattle's world's fair, he has laid out several acres of the forest covered campus in trails and vistas. He has erected pioneer log cabins and built waterfalls. He has laid out water courses, and in other ways reproduced in miniature the famous trail over which he first entered the great northwest. He has the same oxteam he drove across the continent and others as well and the visitor to the exposition, when he finds his way to the "Pay Streak" will be taken "over the summit of the Cascades, over the 'three notched logs' down the descent and through the narrow defile," which are told of in the history of Lewis and Clarke, who first blazed the way.

In the log cabins he will find the entertainment and hospitality of the days of '49 and in the woods he will find rustic seats and benches where families may discuss the picnic lunches they may bring with them.

Altogether it is a realistic bit from the pioneer days, the traces of which are so rapidly disappearing from the West.

Best Treatment for Colds.
"Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment," says the Chicago Tribune, "moderate laxatives, hot foot baths, a free perspiration and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment." While this treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two, or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon?
