STADIUM AT FAIR IS BIG

ONE OF THE FINEST OF ITS KIND ON COAST

When Field Sports Occur at Seattle This Summer, Spectators Will Have Best of Facilities For Witnessing Games—Stadium is a marvel in Every Respect.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 4.—The stadium of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition will comfortably afford seating capacity for twenty thousand spectators, and every seat will command an unobstructed view of the track, two base ball diamonds and football field. It is built on the edge of Lake Washington, and from the grand stands many of the larger aquatic events may be viewed. Across the lake the snow covered peaks of the Cascades, Mount Rainier and Olympia are close at hand, and supply a noble background. The stadium track is of the new spiral type; it is oval in form and scales four laps to the mile. It contains a straight away of two hundred and twenty yards, and both tracks are as fast as can be made. Two base ball diamonds are laid out in the center, and the football field is placed between the grand stands.

The tracks are thoroughly drained by tile and a fast course is always insured while heavy going is obviated. Sprinkling apparatus has been installed and during all weather dust will be avoided. The long distance of the oval is from north to south and the site ideal.

The grand stands are two in number and are built on the east and west side of the oval. In dimensions they are 360x70 feet, and the seats are arranged in fifteen inch rises. The entrances are made direct from the bottom of each aisle, which prevents any congestion in exit or admittance. Both buildings are fitted with a row of stage boxes having a seating capacity of from four to eight people. The height at which the seats are placed permits of sufficient rise to insure uninterrupted view from every position, and in overcoming the fifteen inch difference between seat platforms, two short steps are used. Particular attention has been given to view point, and the sight lines are ideal. All aisles give away on the oval, and between the grand stands and the track an open space of six feet has been reserved for entrance and exit.

The dressing rooms, baths, and toilet rooms for contestants, and rooms for the public are provided beneath the grand stands, and are fitted with all necessary conveniences.

All entrances of stadium contestants will be made directly into the oval from the central arch of the grand stands, and in this regard will closely follow the old Roman method. By this system an unusually effective and desirable end is accomplished, and does away with the scattered and straggling appearance generally observed.

FIRST NIGHT PROSPEROUS

If this week continues the pace set last night, the carnival receipts will be large and the sum turned over to the park fund and to the merchants, correspondingly large. Reports from nearly every concession and attraction on the pathway of fun last evening show the business done to be extremely creditable, and, in fact, larger than the usual opening nights. Usually, the populace is sceptical until others have blazed the trail to the various attractions. While the receipts show that hundreds attended, not one word of criticism has been hurled at the entire series.

Holverson After O. R. & N.
Mrs. Jennie Holverson and the Phoenix Insurance company have filed suit against the O. R. & N. for $150.00 alleged to be the value of a barn belonging to Mrs. Holverson at Hillgard, which was burned January 29. The complaint alleges that the fire was caused by a spark from the engine of freight train No. 55, on that date, head to come.

Executive Committee Called.

The executive committee of the Union County Pioneer Association has been called to meet at Imbler on Friday, May 7 at 10:30, to decide on a date for the next annual reunion at that place, and to make arrangements for a program for the occasion. We hope there will be a good attendance. Our custom has been to invite all pioneers to take part in our business meetings.

Best Treatment for Colds.

"Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment," says the Chicago Tribune, "moderate laxatives, hot foot baths, a free perspiration and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet offer treatment." While this treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two, or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon? For sale by All Good Druggists.
