

LOCAL ITEMS.

Miss Alta Bault who has been at Joseph for several weeks has returned. L. E. Caviness one of the live real estate men of Wallowa county returned this morning from Portland.

Fred G. Taylor made another of his frequent trips to the Hall ranch near Union this morning.

A whole car load of ladies came over from Elgin today to attend the carnival.

Mrs. T. Short returned from Elgin this afternoon where she had gone for a short visit.

Clay Rinehart and Carl Dittbrandt drove up from Imbler to attend the carnival last evening. They made the trip in an auto.

A dozen Japs went to a point seven miles below Elgin today where extensive track repairs will be made during the next week.

Miss Addie Knapper returned to her home in Joseph this morning, after visiting her sister Mrs. Colon R. Eberhard for a few days.

Tenant officer J. W. Faulk had his hands full yesterday keeping a number of the younger school boys away from the exciting scenes of erecting the carnival.

The Observer said yesterday through error that Judge Knowles went to Pendleton to hear a case for Supreme Judge Bean. The word should have been Circuit Judge Bean.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Worstell and Mesdames, George Grout, D. E. Cox and Charles Smith returned this morning from Union where they attended the Rebekah convention. Mrs. Hill returned last evening.

J. E. Reynolds left this morning for Calgary, B. C. where he will locate. C. R. Hibbert the Imbler real estate dealer and Claude Childers. The two went with the local agent, and will be gone something like two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Harper, father of O. E. Harper, manager of the Pendleton creamery company, have just arrived from Hurley, South Dakota, and they will make their permanent home in this city. They have been in the west before, having lived at La Grande for several years, but have been living in Dakota for the past year.—Pendleton E. O.

CHILDERS ON TRAIL

Sheriff Childers has not returned from his search for Stowell who left here Saturday owing creditors a total of several hundred dollars. It is possible he will return this evening or tomorrow and evidently with the prisoner, as he was aware when he left here, where the fellow was headed for. Relative to his search, the Baker City Herald of yesterday said.

Believing that a former resident of La Grande is on his way to the Ox Bow project on Snake river, the same man having beaten a number of creditors in La Grande, Sheriff Childers of Union county, passed through Baker City this morning to capture the runaway individual and return him to the scene of his crookedness. "It was like this," said the Union county sheriff to a reporter for the Herald. "The man drew a bunch of money he had in the bank and visited several of his creditors. Instead of paying his debts he flaunted the roll of greenbacks in their faces and told them to go—so I am after that fellow and I am going to get him. Would not think of pursuing an honest man like this unless I was officially notified to do so, but this blankity blank rascal must stop through the high rye."

PICKLER HOME

Engineer Pickler and Ed Hughes blew in from the survey of the Beaver creek line this afternoon. He will return tomorrow morning. The party turned back from the head of the line this morning and Mr. Pickler thinks that in 10 days will finish the work. Following completion of the field work there will be several days of office work over the notes.

REBEKAHS AT UNION

Delegates to the district convention of the Rebekah lodge which assembled in Union yesterday forenoon returned home this morning, and report a most enjoyable time. Besides the real business of the convention, in which the five lodges at Cove, Union, La Grande, Summerville and Elgin were represented, and which is always interesting, the delegates, about 200 in number, enjoyed immensely the sumptuous banquet provided by the Union lodge last evening.

C. F. Hornecker, of Manchester, Kansas, arrived in La Grande last night and will make this valley his home. Mr. Hornecker worked in the valley 20 years ago, and has never forgotten its beauties and advantages.

Andrew Lun, the prosperous North Powder rancher and business man, is in the city today.

Councilman O. Phelps Pratt, is over from Union today.

H. D. G. Cox, the Farmers Union organizer has returned and will do considerable work in the valley before leaving again.
