WILL HAVE GOOD CROP AT UNION

Ernest Lewis, of the Grand Ronde Cash Company, which this spring leased the Townley orchards at Union, was in the city this morning, and in response to a query about the fruit crop, said that they expect to harvest a very fine crop this year. The Townley orchard seems to be among the very latest in the valley to blossom, and the damage from frost was consequently small. Mr. Lewis says that not even the cherries will fall short of a normal crop, and that the quality will be of the very best. They expect to ship fully as much fruit as came from the orchard last year.

WHOLE CITY OF LOS ANGELES HELPING ON MOTHERS' DAY

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—The fame and significance of Mothers' Day is spreading.

Los Angeles, Cal., has created a fund for destitute mothers to be distributed today, Mothers' Day, and the mayor of the city in a proclamation has requested citizens to attend a place of worship today, wear a white carnation as a badge of motherhood and contribute to the destitute mothers' fund.

Following the lead of Philadelphia, Los Angeles has taken up the movement with enthusiasm and vim, and has sent to Miss Ana Jarvis, of this city, the founder of the day—which promises to become a national holiday—the first button of 75,000 official badges which have been struck for the occasion.

A mass meeting addressed by clergymen of all denominations, sermons in the churches and special services are features of Los Angeles celebration.

Mrs. Lulu Skinner Lee has started the fund for destitute mothers by a contribution of $100, and Mrs. Phoebe Hearst has subscribed the same amount.
