LA GRANDE TO SEE WALL STREET MEN

Wall street brokers will charter a special train and make a trip to Seattle, closely following the automobile race which starts from New York on the 11 of June, and is expected to be closed at Seattle June 15 to 20th. Inasmuch as the course of the race is through La Grande, it is quite likely that this special trainload of brokers will visit this city.

The Wall street delegation will journey westward in a leisurely manner until the party reaches Denver. It is expected that the special train and the automobile drivers will arrive in the Colorado metropolis about the same time.

Interest in the race across the continent for the trophy that M. Robert Guggenheim will give is keen among the men in Wall street, and according to letters received by Welford Beaton, director of publicity of the A-Y-P, scores of men in the big financial district not only want to see the race started, but desire to watch the competition across the continent, and especially to be in at the finish. It is only occasionally that La Grande gets a glimpse at the big guns of Wall street and this will be one of them. About June 17 is the time they are due here.
