After 9 o'clock Mr. Mars unleased a wheelbarrow containing about 50 on the pile. He is now of the opinion that in this lot was a cigar stub which must have been smouldering and finally ignited the entire lot. A passer-by noticing the flames, notified the night clerk in the Rouse Valley House, who, after making an examination, turned in the alarm and then woke up several of the residents in the immediate vicinity. This attracted the attention of England Bros. who sleep in the basement and Mr. Mars, whose bedroom is not more than 20 feet from the fire. They soon got a small stream of water and had the fire under control. It burned the side of the wall requiring the taking up of several boards. Had the interior of the England store caught before the boys in the basement could have made their escape through the cellar door, we would have an entirely different story to relate this evening.
There was quite a breeze blowing last night and had the fire gained much headway the entire block which has been saved so often heretofore, might have been swept away. The insurance is very high in this block and few owners carry anything like full value on either the property or merchandise.

WITHDRAW THE FORCES

Engineer Brandon came in this morning from Portland to remove his forces who have constructed the Wallowa branch to Washington, where the company is building another branch line. Engineer Brandon considers himself quite fortunate. He says for the last two years he has had his tent pitched on Wallowa river, one of the finest fishing streams in the state and now he will be permitted to fish in Coeur D'Alene lakes.
This cleans up construction and finishing details of the construction of the Wallowa branch. He had planned to complete the work by June 1st, but by hurried and concerted efforts he was able to get the ballasting finished. The branch road now stands as a road completed.

Best Treatment for Colds.
"Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment," says the Chicago Tribune. "moderate laxatives, hot foot baths, a free perspiration and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment." While this treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two, or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon?
