MESSAGE FROM MARS TONIGHT

The "hard times" which have prevailed for the past eighteen months have resulted in driving almost all the mediocre and inferior theatrical attractions out of business. The percentage of failures has been greater than was ever known before in theatrical history. It has all resolved itself into a case of "the survival of the fittest."

The famous English comedy drama, "A Message From Mars" which will be the attraction at the Steward tonight, has, since the beginning of the present season, last August, duplicated and in some instances surpassed its financial returns of previous seasons. This notwithstanding the fact that "A Message From Mars" is eight years old and has been seen in some of the cities visited for the fourth time in as many seasons.

SPLENDID RECEPTION. Half Hundred Visit Informally With Family About to Leave.

More than a half a hundred last evening attended the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. George Cleaver in honor of Prof. and Mrs. H. J. Hockenberry and Miss Huffman at the Cleaver residence. It was an informal affair entirely. Where old-time friends recited incidents of the past and events of the present. The large attendance attests to the popularity which the guests of honor hold in La Grande. Music by several of the guests present enlivened the occasion and before departure the guests were served with refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Hockenberry have been residents of La Grande close on to 10 years, the departure of this family from La Grande will be occasion for regret by all.
