COURT HAS ADJOURNED

After transacting the usual amount of routine business and attending to some pressing matters like providing for a bridge at Oro Dell and buying some new cells for the jail, the county court adjourned this afternoon. The hour just before adjournment was taken up with a discussion of the plan for a county hospital, to be erected on the poor farm bought recently. Within the next two months the inmates of the farm at Union must be moved, and it is expedient that the new structure be ready for occupancy. Just as soon as suitable plans can be drawn, work on the building will begin.

It will probably be at least 30 by 40 feet, and will contain two wards with several single beds each; two or three rooms for use in case of sickness; a bath room, sitting room, kitchen etc. The building finished will cost in the neighborhood of $1,500.
