E-RU-SA—THE ONLY LAWFUL PILE CURE.
Because it does not contain narcotics, mercury, cocaine, lead or any poisonous drugs. Because E-RU-SA cures piles. U. S. Dispensary recommends every ingredient of E-RU-SA. Drug laws make "false or misleading statements" a crime. Therefore the sale of all old or narcotic pile medicines is illegal because they effect the brain and spinal marrow, produce constipation and never cure. Only druggists of highest standing sell and endorse E-RU-SA.

SEVERAL NEW LAWS IN FORCE

By provisions passed at the last session of the legislature it is necessary for county clerks to purchase three new record books for their offices. One is a Conditional Sales Record, Vendors of machinery etc., who wish to retain title until the article sold is fully paid for, must within ten days of the sale file in the office of the county recorder a notice of the sale, with memoranda as to payment, conditions of sale etc. This must be signed by both buyer and seller.

Another new book is the Mechanics Lien Record. Within 30 days of the time when an article has been delivered to the owner by the party who desires a lien to secure payment for labor, the lien must be filed in the office of the recorder.

In order to make all records and filings concerning town plats uniform the last legislature passed a measure which specifies the manner of making and the method of filing such a plat, the kind of drawing paper and ink that must be used, and goes into detail that it will be next to impossible for the recorder to receive a plat that is wrongly made.

In the county treasurer's office will be kept a Peddlers' License Record. The measure which provides for the record also makes it compulsory upon those who wish to peddle to take out a license.

TOURIST REACHES LA GRANDE

Walking from Union to La Grande in four hours, demonstrating his ability to cover ground on foot, and laying aside his limited luggage in this city for an over-night rest, Prof. Alfredo Battelli is in La Grande this afternoon. He arrived from Union at 1 o'clock.

The Professor is a genial fellow who talks American quite fluently, and in every action and utterance gives proof that he comes from the nobility of Italy. He carries one piece of hand baggage, and a gun, but photographs, data and the like which he compiles on his way and will use when he issues his history of the American people and of the world in fact, is sent by express from place to place and he makes his advance across the continent.

With his trusty gun he has felled many a wild and ferocious animal during his trip through the west.

His journey is far from pleasant. Though he enjoys meeting the American people, especially the newspaper men, he has hardships galore. His journey through the badlands would make an interesting book in itself.

May Lecture Here.

It is quite possible that the editor will deliver one of his interesting lectures here tomorrow night at one of the electric theatres. He has incidents that are pleasant to listen to.

He goes to Pendleton from here then to Portland, Seattle, Alaska and from some seaport town there, sails for San Francisco after he has studied the gold mining industry in Alaska. At Frisco he meets his other three companions and sail to Honolulu and points in the Orient and old Japan. Prof. Battelli is an interesting character and has ventured out on a hazardous task. He is under no obligation to ride on a train, and since leaving New York, October 7, has held to his agreement to the letter.

He is engaged by the International Geographical society and is investigating commercial and industrial traffic, history and customs of different races. He is a linguist of no small capabilities, conversing intelligently in nine different languages.

Battelli reached Union last evening and stopped over night there. In fact he might have reached La Grande last evening, but had an opportunity to deliver a lecture in the electric theatre there, and he availed himself of the opportunity. This morning he started on the last lap to La Grande.
