LOCALS PLAY FAST BALL

All away in the first canto, but exceptionally fast and furious in subsequent innings, La Grande trounced the Elgin team, 23 to 5. It was a peculiar game. In the first Nelson was slugged terrifically, and abetted by errors by Stoddard and Childers, Elgin was able to tinkle the pan five times. But there it ended. From then on, La Grande played some of the classiest ball seen here this year. Nelson throwing splendidly and the team backing him up to the last notch. Elgin was loose and seemed unable to brace up and work together. While the game was one sided, La Grande never let up for a moment, and thereby pleased the fans, who failed to see much ball playing when Elgin had their outs. It was worth the money to see the locals, machine like actions. The shift in players seems to have straightened the team.

Twirler Nelson could depend upon his backstop and after his streak of wildness, settled down to the best throwing game of this year for him.
