OLD TIMER IN CITY

James Baker, an old time resident of La Grande, but now of Turlock, Calif., is in the city, visiting with his brother, City Attorney Joe Baker. He has been in Twin Falls and Pocatella for the past few weeks and has viewed many irrigation projects, and thinks that the Grande Ronde project is the cheapest yet. He will return to his southern home in a short time accompanied by his father-in-law William Tillman and family. Mr. Tillman will make his future home in California, having exchanged his property here for property at Turlock.

LINCOLN FOR COACH

The hose team met last night at the fire department headquarters, and besides attending to other business selected a captain and coach to get the team into shape for the races on the Fourth. R. L. Lincoln, an old time fireman and athlete, was chosen to coach the team. Arrangements were also made for securing suits for the team. They are putting in some good practice every evening now and by the Fourth they will be in such shape that it will not be easy for another team to do much against them.

Magneto Draws Crowds.

Magneto, the electrical wonder worker, pleased a large crowd at the Scenic last night, and showed some wonders that are not often seen. Magneto invited the electricians in the audience to come forward last night, but everyone seemed to be afraid. Manager Gardner has made arrangements, however, to have competent critics on the stage tonight. If they can prove that 50,000 volts of electricity do not pass through his body, Magneto will give them $1,000. Magneto lights handkerchiefs with his hair, gas with the tip of his tongue and cigarettes with his finger tips. He is heralded as the greatest sensation in vaudeville.

Carico and Delmage, the sister team, had to appear in their street clothes last night and were at a disadvantage also, because their music was locked up in their trunks, which did not arrive until night.
