WILL BUILD 4 HOUSES

J. M. Berry, formerly a business man of this city and now comfortably located in Portland, will commence construction immediately in that city of four splendid residences. The lots are located in a very beautiful addition, the Holladay, and the district is under a $4,000 residence limit, meaning that no home can be built in that district which cost less than the limit figure. Contracts for construction are about to be let.

BAKER CITY STRONGER

News comes from Baker City that the baseball team at that place, stinging over the defeat of last Sunday, have been doing things the past few days. Not only have the fans at Baker City grown tired of "Punk" ball, but the officials of the amateur league have decided that a better team must be put forth or there will be "something doing". Therefore there has been a general shifting of the players on the team at that place and when they come to La Grande next Sunday there will be several new faces in the place of the old ones. Humors says that some of them will not be entirely new either to the baseball bugs of Eastern Oregon.

La Grande has been playing excellent ball and they deserve all the patronage that the public will give it. Be on hand Sunday to cheer your home team to victory. Help them climb to the top in the standing of the clubs. Such a team as La Grande has now is a good advertisement for the city.

The other games on next Sunday will be Elgin vs. Cove at Cove and Union vs. Huntington at Huntington.

Ho! For The Picnic.
E. Polack, grocer, is nothing if not enterprising. He knew that everybody intends to participate in the railroadmen's excursion next Sunday, and has laid in everything necessary for such a trip except fishing tackle, and he has promised to loan a friend his own basket for the day. In order to be able to supply lunch goods to the crowds, Mr. Polack has laid in a supply of kippered herring, cheese, pickles and everything else that properly belongs in a picnic lunch, including several cases of choice sardines.

Cake Sale.
The ladies of the Presbyterian church will have a nice lot of cakes on display next Saturday afternoon at the Bohnenkamp Hardware store. An excellent recipe will be given with each cake.
