AUTO TIPS AND HURTS SEVERAL

F. C. Fields, the railroader, who is a prominent K. of P., is home today bearing the marks of injuries sustained during a big spill by an auto last evening at Pendleton. A party of Knights were enjoying a spin about the city and adjacent country, and while running at a "right smart" clip, struck a ditch and the car upset. Every passenger was more or less hurt, though none were critically injured. The driver alone escaped without bruises. Mr. Fields was one of the passengers, and his face bears the evidence of the accident very vividly. Fortunately for all, bruises, of the kind inflicted on Mr. Fields, was the chief item of injuries.

WAR SCENE THRILLING

SEATTLE, June 24.—Probably the most remarkable scenic reproduction of a naval battle ever presented, is the Battle of the Monitor and Merrimac, the $240,000 concession on the "Pay Streak" of the A-Y-P. exposition at Seattle.

As the curtain is drawn aside, the visitor unconsciously starts at the realism of the panorama before him. Stretching away, apparently for miles, is Hampton Roads, the scene of the first conflict between iron-clads.

The Federal vessels are anchored here, unconscious of the presence of the Confederate ironclad, the Merrimac. The Merrimac appears, steaming slowly toward the helpless wooden vessels of the Union fleet. The ironclad first reaches the Cumberland, which is sunk with all on board by several broadsides. Next the Confederate ironclad steams to the Congress, which runs up a white flag. Through a mistake, the Merrimac fires a volley of hot shot into the magazine of the Federal vessel, setting it on fire. Night ends the battle and the Merrimac retires. The Congress burns late into the night and sinks.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The La Grande delegation to the Grand Lodge at Pendleton are returning today, the principal business having been transacted last evening. The list of officers follows:

For the Knights of Pythias the following have been chosen as officers for the next year:

Frank Menefee, of The Dalles, grand chancellor; Darwin E. Yoran, of Eugene, grand vice chancellor; George Schulmerich of Hillsboro, grand prelate; L. R. Stinson of Salem, G. K. R. S.; J. W. Maloney, Pendleton, G. M. E.; F. H. Rosenberg, of Cottage Grove, grand master at arms; George W. Knight of Hubbard, grand inner guard; F. M. White, of Klamath Falls, grand outer guard. Gus C. Moser, retiring grand chancellor, was chosen as a trustee, and L. M. Curl, a past grand chancellor was chosen as supreme representative to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of W. M. Cook.

The next session of the grand lodge will be held in Portland. However the grand lodge voted down a resolution providing that the grand lodge meet permanently in that city.

The grand temple officers are: Inez R. Chase, Coquille, grand chief; May Gevertz, Portland, grand senior; Elizabeth Stinson, Salem, grand junior; Pearlina Anthony, Baker City, grand manager; Nellie E. McGowan, Medford, grand protector; Minnie E. McKenzie, Milton, grand guard; Midiam Brooks, Portland, supreme representative; Elizabeth Imprie, Hillsboro, alternate; Mary R. Hogue, Klamath Falls, mistress of records and correspondence; Hanna Vincent, St. John's mistress of finance; Emma Synder, Aurora, grand trustee.

Program—Anna Brooks, Mrs. McGoldrick, Miss Coble, Mrs. Hibberd, and Mrs. Wade Brooks.

Music—Anna Brooks, Wade Brooks and Clay Rinehart.

Refreshments—Mesdames Shanks, Brooks Wade, Benjamin and Parker.

Reception—Messrs and Mesdames Ruckman, Wade, McGoldrick, Gaskill, Welch, Woodell, Bach, Wade, Shanks, McKinnis, Stringham, Terry, Tuttle and Miss Lucy Wade.

Conveyance—C. R. Hibberd, W. W. Bach and J. J. Wade.

Mrs. William Hall left last evening to join her husband at Seattle. He has charge of the Union county exhibit at that place.

J. S. Peach took his departure last evening for Payette, where he will attend a camp meeting being conducted by the adventists.

THE BEST PLACE

Without a doubt the best place to get all kinds of vegetable berries, cherries, oranges and lemons, is at the Geddes. They have the best and the freshest; and should you want nice crisp sweet or sour pickles, just call them up; and don't forget that 25c coffee, it takes the place of your 40c coffee. Just in a shipment of Swifts ham and bacon.
