The wise men of today are those who on the slightest trouble with their eye sight have that trouble investigated by a reputable optician.

Many an wearing glasses today could have had his trouble remedied by the wearing of glasses for a short period—if he attended to it in time.

PEAK MECCA GALLERY FOR SCALERS IS CLOSED

Vicissitudes of Alpin struggles were indulged in yesterday by the greatest number of mountain scalers to attempt the hazardous climb to the peak of Mt. Emily in one day, of several years. Twenty-three either walked or rode to the peak during the course of the day. Those who walked, chose the Old Indian trail, starting at a point due south of Summerville, and leading to the flagpole on the summit. The party left La Grande by team early yesterday morning, and at 7:20, turned their faces toward the top of the ridge, three miles west of the point. The well defined trail is one of the longest and steepest on the big mountain, and after it reaches the ridge is still three miles from the peak.

W. W. Yeager, who has been running the shooting gallery here for the past three months, is packing up today preparatory to taking a vacation for the rest of the summer. He will make his headquarters in La Grande for a week or two, and will fish the Wallows, Minam and Looking Glass. Mr. Yeager is an enthusiastic angler, and has cast a fly in every stream of note in the west. His conduct of the shooting gallery has won him the friendship of every one who has competed for the prizes offered, and has been eminently satisfactory in all respects. After enjoying the fishing around here, he will go to one of the California summer resorts for the rest of the summer.

Splendid weather favored the Mazamas, and it was 11 o'clock when the advance guard of the climbers registered at the summit. A lunch and a rest, and the downhill trip, even more strenuous than the ascent, was commenced, teams being reached at the foot of the hill at 4:30 o'clock. Those undertook and successfully carried out the arduous adventure were Messrs and Mesdames E. Polack, Frank Bay and A. W. Nelson; Misses Lulu Gullig and Maude Snodgrass, and Messrs James Kilpatrick and H. M. Bay.

A balky team, each of the horses being past masters in the act, gave additional excitement and a fitting climax to the trip, and for a period of nearly two hours, just at dusk, cut capers in the heavily timbered woods, in such a manner as to scatter the feminine half of the party to the four winds. With return of mobility to the animals, the ladies were rounded up and the homeward journey was successfully culminated.

Thirteen Ride up.
 A cavalcade of 13 riders left Island City at 6:30 and at 1 o'clock was at the top. The Jackson trail was the route chosen by this crowd of Near-Mazamas, and though not afoot, had troubles of their own. The route is not clear in many places and the party twice lost its bearing, only to re-find it and proceed tenaciously to the top.

The feat is no delicate one, either by horse or afoot, and the ladies of the cavalcade were a thoroughly tired group on their return to La Grande late in the evening. Those to make the trip by horseback were:

Misses: Mable Whitcombe, Corvallis, Julia Cooper, The Dalles, Jessie Foster Island City, Mary and Iva Head, Jefferson, Iowa, Alice Anderson, Jefferson, Iowa; Messrs Reynolds, Thomas, Don and Tom Myers, Roscoe Doane, Clyde Kiddle and Hugh McCall.

Trifling adventures such as being pulled from her mount by an overhanging limb and sustaining bruises on her face were meted out to Miss Cooper. All in all, the trip was an enjoyable one. The view of the Grande Ronde valley from the peak of the mountain is too majestic to be tampered with in an effort to paint word pictures. Actual presence is necessary to estimate the grandeur of the thing.

"Foggy Ferry" Great.

Good production put on by Pastime Stock Co.

Probably the best comedy drama ever presented in La Grande by a Stock Co. was the production at the Pastime last night of "Foggy Ferry" by the Pastime Stock Co.

There is just enough drama and just enough comedy—in fact it is one of the most evenly balanced bills ever seen here—and all the comedy parts are real laugh producers.

Louise Claire, female baritone, is again on the program with one of her excellent vocal selections—and Russell Harrison with his "Silly Kid" jokes kept the audience in an uproar.

The same bill will run through Wednesday night.
