SALOON IS TENACIOUS

PENDLETON, Aug. 3.—A special to the East Oregonian from Pilot R. K. says:

It seems that this town's one near beer saloon is not to give up the ghost without a struggle and the struggle is now on this afternoon. What the outcome will be remains to be seen.

Yesterday was the expiration of the limit of time set by the city council for the proprietors of the joint, Bradburn Brothers, to close up their business and move out, the council refused to grant them a license.

Having no desire to give up a lucrative business and acting on the advice of their attorney, Dan P. Smythe, of Pendleton, they did not close up and move out yesterday, but continued to do business in the same way at the same old stand. This morning when they opened up for business they were arrested by the town marshal.

Their case was set for trial at 2:30 this afternoon and Attorney Smythe came out in an automobile to represent his clients.

Though the case has not yet been tried it is understood that the contention of the near beer men and their attorney will be that the council has no authority to refuse to grant them a license, without cause, when they had complied with every requirement of the law.

120 BOOKLETS OF UNION COUNTY DISTRIBUTED.

One Man Recognizes Place by Exhibits at A-Y-P.

Two sections were necessary to carry the passengers of No. 6 this morning. The first was composed of chair cars and the second was sleepers and diners. The passengers of the second section were principally tourist on their way home from the fair.

Publicity Manager Currey was at the depot, distributing literature of the Grande Ronde valley. He disposed of 120 booklets. Mr. Currey, by handing the booklet telling the story of the cherries raised here, brought forth the remark from one gentleman that he recognized the place by the booklet and the cherries on display in the Union county section at the A-Y-P. Mr. Currey accompanied the gentleman into the train and was introduced to five other members of the party, all business men of Oberlin, Ohio. They were all enthusiastic over the west and expressed their strong desire to return.

Several of the tourists made known the fact that they had visited the Oregon building at the fair and were impressed with the Union county exhibits. All were well to do looking people and no doubt will go to their home in the east singing the praises of the western country, and no doubt some of them praising the beautiful Grande Ronde.

What One Paper Says.

Still another clipping from a leading newspaper relative to the qualities of the Mormon Tabernacle choir, is published for the good of the populace which may anticipate attending the concert to be given here this month.

Never was the attractive power of song more strikingly illustrated in Denver than in the concert given by the celebrated Mormon Tabernacle choir in M. E. Trinity church last evening. Although the advance sale of seats was almost sufficient to tax the capacity of the church, when the doors opened there was a large number of people waiting for admission. Applause, long and loud, rewarded the splendid efforts of the singers, and when the last note had died away the audience filed out fully satisfied.—Denver Republican.
