SUPERIOR TO HOOD RIVER

MR. AND MRS. ACKLES RETURN FROM FAIR.

Very Enthusiastic Over Union County Exhibit at Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Ackles returned this morning from a three weeks visit on the coast principally at the fair at Seattle. They enjoyed the fair immensely and state that the Union county exhibits have received more favorable comment than any display of the other counties of the state. They were very enthusiastic over the impression that Union county made to the visitors in the Oregon building.

They state that the apples sent by Mike Carrol of May park made a big hit with the visitors and that one party of fair visitors from California stated that they were far superior to those from the Hood River country. Not only the apples sent by Mr. Carrol received favorable comment, but all of the other exhibits came in for their share of the praise.

DIG STREAM WESTWARD

SEATTLE, Aug. 5.—(Special)—That thousands of people from the east are buying tickets to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, is the flattering report of travel that has been received by James A. Wood, director of the exposition, from L. W. Thavis, the exposition's publicity agent, whose headquarters are at Washington, D. C.

In a letter dated July 24, Mr. Thavis says that the sales of tickets with Seattle as their destination are unprecedented.

"The Pennsylvania office sold alone more than 800 Seattle tickets up to July 15," said Mr. Thavis, "and other lines report sales of 928 tickets between them for the same period."

Judging from daily reports from prospective visitors at the exposition this number will be more than doubled before October 16th.

"Reports from Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York and other points in the east as well as several in the southern states indicate an unusual travel to the Pacific coast this summer."

"People generally are always more interested in successful expositions, and naturally the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition is receiving extraordinary mention in all quarters. There is nothing like success and I must again congratulate you on 'The best Exposition ever held.'"

The registers in the New York and Michigan club buildings show an astonishing number of eastern visitors. The change in the personnel of the crowds from local to general has been especially noticeable in the past month.

Oil on Streets.

THE DALLES, Aug. 5.—The most important matter taken up by the city council last night was the proposition of experimenting with crude oil as a means of improving the streets of the city.

Councilman P. J. Stadelman brought the question to the attention of the city dads and after considering the same at length, the streets and public property committee was instructed by the aldermen to purchase a car of the oil which will be used for the betterment of the thoroughfares in The Dalles.

The street on which the oil is to be applied is first rolled while moist and then the oil is placed on the surface when it is dry. The next move is to follow up the work with a roller and then the thoroughfare is ready for immediate use. The city has a sprinkler at its command that will be used for the application of the oil so no extra expense is necessitated. A car of oil will cost approximately $200.
