MEET HERE AFTER 51 YEARS

MRS. MCWHIRTER ENJOYING VISIT FROM HER BROTHER.

Missourian Admits This Locality Has Many Attractions.

Separated from each other in physical being for 51 years, but keeping in close touch through the medium of mails, Perry Tantlinger of Caldwell county, Missouri, and Mrs. McWhirter of this city, are enjoying a visit with one with the other this week. Mr. Tantlinger is accompanied by his wife, who since her arrival here has not been well, and their intended visit to Seattle fair may be delayed a trifle. While he is here the Missourian is inspecting the valley carefully, and though not an out-and-out buyer, may possibly decide to locate here and bring with him his two sons and their families.

Mr. Tantlinger is one of those wideawake Missourians, who when "shown", will admit the truth, and though here but a few days has already become convinced that the land of his boyhood and the land of his entire life, is not quite up to the diversified standing of this valley.

DENIES ROBBERY CHARGES

DICK JONES ACCUSED OF BEING CHICKEN THIEF.

W. S. Allison Refutes Charges About Friskin' Foosts.

With considerable spirit, W. S. Allison denies that he carried the match box of so much mystery to the Davis hen house, and therefore cannot be held amenable to the law and made to pay for the missing hens. In an article to the Observer, he says:

Editor Observer—In last night's issue of this paper, I saw my name mentioned in connection with the Davis chicken house robbery. Not denying, but what I am the rightful owner of the match box found in the chicken house, will say that it was not in my possession at that time, as I had loaned it to Mr. "Dick" Jones on his fishing trip, Sunday night, August 8; one week previous to the robbery. Hoping this puts me in the clear and that Mr. Jones returns me my match box, I am,

Respectfully,
Senator W. S. Allison.
