Sensational Play at Pastime.

If our readers want their money's worth and a lot more, they should attend the performance of "Crimes of a Big City," at the Pastime theatre tonight. The play will be found all that he has been claimed for it by the management, and in the hands of the stock company, it is certainly a great show.

One sensation after another follows so quickly that one has hardly time to catch ones breath, and the comedy is uproariously funny. Miss Bertha Natino has a good part that she portrays with dash and ginger which proves an excellent foil for the part played by Russell Harrison. Miss Chumley was more than good in a strong part and Lucile Tucker, Mrs. Kelley, Mr. Leonard, Mr. Baker, Mr. Cavin and Mr. Curtiss, all appeared to advantage.

Thomas Bruce was great in the "Town Constable," looking for a clue. This is really a great play and will be given tonight and tomorrow night.
