LISTS FOR THOSE WHO WANT THEM

A very satisfactory arrangement has been made by Chairman Will Church of the fair advertising committee relative to distribution of fair premium lists within the city gates, for it is a fact that everyone is not sufficiently interested in the details of the premiums to warrant his or her receiving a copy. To accommodate every person interested, the committee decided to leave samples of the list at the two banks, all the drug stores and at the Commercial club. In this way anyone can provide himself with a copy and peruse it to his heart's content.

Another matter which the committee wants publicity given too, is to return the premium lists when disinterested persons happen to gain possession of one. Public co-operation is necessary to get the greatest possible good out of the limited number of lists on hand, and as the demand for lists have already been noticeably greater than in previous years special arrangement has to be made to accommodate all.

WILL HONOR YOUNG HERO

Many La Grande people will be interested in the following from the Pendleton E. O.:

A. C. Koeppen is now fathering a plan for the presentation of a suitable present to Herbert O. Roesch, champion rifle shot of the world, and his plan is one that will also advertise a very important industry of this city.

It is Mr. Koeppen's plan to have the business men of the city contribute to a fund to purchase for Roesch the first blanket that will be turned out from the new woolen mill when it gets in operation this fall.

Like other local people, Mr. Koeppen is proud of the great showing made by Roesch at Camp Perry and furthermore he believes that Roesch's townsmen should show proper appreciation of the honor won by the midshipman and incidentally by Pendleton.

As the woolen mill will now soon be in operation it is held that it would be very fitting to give Roesch the first blanket to be turned out by the new looms. It is Mr. Koeppen's plan to take but 10 cents from each man so that as large a number as possible will be represented in the gift.

Another Crowd Pleased.

Another delighted audience saw the beautiful dramatic story "The Parish Priest" at the Pastime theatre last night. The cast made individual hits in their respective roles, and the performance was far superior to any ever given in this city for the price.

The same interesting play will be given tonight and tomorrow night.
