OPTION WAR BITTER ONE

BOISE, Sept. 1.—The Capital News says:

Bitter is the local option war which is now being waged in Boise and Ada county and those who are taking a neutral ground to watch with interest the boiling and spurning of the steaming broth in the political pot claim that the evaporation is so great it will be nothing short of a marvel that will prevent the vaporizing process to become complete. Two weeks ago the campaign was decidedly mild. Seven days afterwards both prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists awoke from the trance and bestirred themselves. The last two days have seen activity and today there was excitement for the exaggerated claims that were being made on all sides were contradicted and re-contradicted until even the neutral standpatter is willing to admit that he does not know where he "is at" and the bitter denouncers of both sides are even worse off. Dope Operates Both Ways.

The very latest so-called "dope" which floats from the headquarters of the "wet" leaders is to the effect that the 16 precincts of Boise will be carried by approximately 1000 votes, enough to offset the big "dry" vote from the remaining county precincts and keep the county steady and in the "dry" column. It is learned, however, that the real leaders behind the anti-prohibition fight are not so sure about the 1000 majority. They believe that if 700 votes are secured the county returns can be offset. There are others who charge that they will have a "wet" majority of over 1500 in Boise and that easily. Little credence is given to the last claim owing to the fact that it is believed almost impossible to stir up that number of votes for a majority. In fact the claims operate both ways. The local option leaders are distributing literature which explains what temperance and prohibition has done in "dry" towns towards increasing the value of property, the earnings of the merchants, cutting down of taxes and raising the moral standard of the community and so on. On the other hand the literature that is sent out by the anti-prohibitionists explains that local option and prohibition has killed more towns in a business way than it has done good; that taxes have been raised in every instance; that merchants have lost money and are in debt; that the cities wherein local option has won out have gradually dropped back and lost in population and that there has been more drunkenness than ever before.
