DO WORK THEMSELVES

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Union County Exposition held last night, it was decided that the building committee should build the necessary building for the holding of the exposition. John Stienback, who is now doing the construction work for the farmers warehouse at Island City, will have charge of the work. The work will start within the next week.

The bids for the furnishing of the canvas will probably be in within the next few days when the construction work will be rushed to completion.

LECTURER IS POPULAR.

Prominent People Speak in Lauding Terms of The Coming Lecturer.

Great things have been said about the lecturer who is coming to this city next Friday night in the interest of prohibition. Among others, this has been said:

Atlantic City, N. J., May 1, 1897.

To our temperance friends everywhere: We all think that our dear Mrs. Unruh has wrought a noble work for the cause and has manifested such ability, loyalty and devotion as entitles her to universal confidence and affection. God bless her.

Yours for Christ's Kingdom Come,
FRANCES E. WILLARD.

I regard Mrs. Unruh as a speaker of unusual talents. She understands the facts thoroughly and knows how to present them in a captivating manner.

D. HEAGLE, D. D. Ph. D.

Professor of Theology in Baptist University, Jackson, Tenn.

Few lecturers have rendered us more generous or genuine service than Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, of Portland, Oregon, a W. C. T. U. lecturer of wide renown. Her various lectures on our platform have met with enthusiastic approval. We shall gladly welcome her to our platform again.

DR. EUGENE MAY,

Supt. N. D. Chautauqua Assembly,
Devils Lake, N. D. July 19, 1900.

Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh has worked in North Dakota for six months, and the results have been most gratifying. She works in perfect harmony with state plans, and is indefatigable in her labors. She is an organizer and blunderer, as well as a speaker. No other worker has ever secured so many subscriptions for The Union Signal or put so much good literature into the unions of our state.

ELIZABETH PRESTON,

President W. C. T. U. of North Dakota.
