RUSH GRAIN TO SHELTER

The finishing touches have at last been placed upon the Farmers' warehouse at Island City, and the farmers of the valley feel they have one of the most modern houses in the state. The walls of the building are of corrugated steel.

The farmers are now planning to let the world know who has rushed the fine building up. They are going to have painted in large letters "Farmers' Union Warehouse."

The greatest rush of the season is anticipated for this week. The farmers' house at Alicel is entirely full of grain and many members of the union at that place have signified their intention of putting the remainder of their holdings in the Island City house.

ROBBERIES GET THREE SUITS

Rather a "cute" robbery occurred between Baker City and North Powder last Saturday when three men fleeced a box car of as many suits of clothes. The men attired in the habitual filthy and tattered garment of the tramp, saw a chance to replenish their diminishing store of wealth in the clothes line, and leaving their old raiment as recompense to the company, dressed in new suits, and leaving the train, struck for the woods near North Powder. No arrests have been made up to date.

Why Druggists Recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. Frank C. Hanrahan, a prominent druggist of Portsmouth, Va., says: "For the past six years I have sold and recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is a great remedy and one of the best patent medicines on the market. I handle some others for the same purposes that pay me a larger profit, but this remedy is sure to effect a cure, and my customer so certain to appreciate my recommending it to him, that I give it the preference."
