Yours very sincerely

BREAKS WIRELESS RECORDS.

The big Great Northern liner Minnesota has made what is considered one of the most remarkable wireless records in the history of this method of communication. Recently, while 700 miles off Cape Flattery on its way to the Orient, while talking with the Seattle station of the United Wireless Telegraph company, the Minnesota, heard the station at Shanghai calling. The spark from the Oriental plant came in so strong the operator could hear it better than the Seattle spark. The Minnesota was 4,600 miles from Shanghai, while this communication was in progress. Messages were exchanged freely and were distinctly heard by both operators.
