2100 CHILDREN PARADE

ELEGANT PAGEANT ON CITY STREETS

EDUCATORS, BAND AND HORSE PLATOON AT THE HEAD

Most stirring sight in the history of Education seen on the Streets of La Grande this Afternoon—Parade Passes Given Point in 14 Minutes—Cove Makes Decided Ovation with Mounted Platoon of Horses—Educator's Present.

More than 2,100 school children and their instructors of Union county paraded the streets of La Grande today at 1:30 o'clock, giving the fair a true color according to its caption, "Education." The parade was a revelation to the hundreds and even thousands who lined the streets on the line of march, just after the parade of horseflesh on exhibition at the building had passed in review. Walking and riding delegations from Union, Cove, Iowa districts, Imbler, Alicel, Island City, La Grande and individual entries, composed a pageant that occupied 14 minutes in passing a fixed point.

Headed by the band the parade swung around the corner of Fourth and Adams leading toward the fair grounds. Following the band came an automobile party comprising Super-

GIRL CLIMBS FAIR FENCE

LASS OF SIXTEEN YEARS IS A MONEY SAVER.

Last Evening.

At football and baseball games the small boy still has the record for clever scheme for stealing his way into the grounds, but at the fair last night a young lady of 16 summers took the cake. Police Officer Getchel was standing near the entrance of the pavilion when some heavy object came down upon the sidewalk with a thud. Rushing to the spot he found a pretty miss who sprung up quickly and escaped into the crowd.

Upon further examination it was found that the pretty visitor had not fallen from the sky but that she was an earthly creature, pure and simple, and had climbed the high board fence and dropped over inside the grounds to save her 15 cents to spend for candy.

The young lady was accosted later by the police and questioned. She said that she had money with which to pay her way but was looking for a friend. She was informed that she had best go home and henceforth to "enter in at the straight gate."

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Hearst was bidden today, but it unannounced as to whether he would accept the nomination for Mayor of Greater New York. It is understood that if he sees any chance of success, he will run.

BABE TOY WITH BIG STALLION

LEAVES MOTHER TO PAY A VISIT TO THE STOCK PENS.

Tiny Babe Found Clinging to the Tail of a Big Stallion.

One of the wildest adventures of the exposition was made yesterday by the four-year-old son of Luther Derringer, of the Queen Chop House. The little lad was separated from his mother in the pavilion and upon coming out of the door went toward the stock yards and the mother towards the front door.

The next strange occurrence was noted in the stall of one of the monster stallions. The keeper noticed the horse raising his hind foot and glancing behind him. Upon further examination a small child was found holding to the horse's tail, laughing and swinging and having a general good time.

The baby was given to Special Police Officer Getchel and after a few hours the name was learned and upon taking him to the restaurant he was restored to his mother none the worse for the adventure, but a little better judge of good horseflesh.

CHILDREN STORM THE METROPOLIS

MONSTER DELEGATION ARRIVES FROM UNION.

Children Especially Make a Decided "Hit" with Demonstrations.

Union fairly stormed this city today at 10 o'clock when the special from Union carrying more than 400 people arrived with its liberal quota of school children to participate in the festivities of today, centering in and around education—and children.

Quickly forming in line at the depot under the direction of General A. J. Goodbrod and the teachers from the Union schools, the delegation of over 350 children paraded the streets waving banners and screaming their school yells lustily.

The impression created by the enthusiastic yet orderly behavior of the large group of children, were extremely favorable with the citizens and fair promoters. The teachers, guardians and parents had perfect control of the youngsters and from the time that the crowd arrived until the spelling match was over, deportment was excellent.

COLLIDES WITH AUTO.

Mrs. Russell Bruised and Jarred But Not Seriously Hurt.

Mrs. J. L. Russell who was slightly injured last evening in the collision between the Russell automobile and the A. P. Nelson driving horse and buggy, is somewhat bruised and jarred today. Medical attention has been given her but it is found that the injuries are by no means serious and that in the course of a few days she will have fully recovered. The Russell auto was being driven by Mr. Russell who was coming down Fourth street hill when the Nelson team was coming up. In attempting to pass each other the drivers turned in the wrong direction and a slight accident followed; remarkably enough, the accident was not a serious one. Mr. Russell was apparently bruised the most of any of the party.
