LOCAL ITEMS.

C. E. Cochran returned home from Portland today where he was called on professional business.

Prof. Roy Conklin of the Cove Cove today with a big delegation of school children.

Attorney C. H. Finn, formerly of this city and now at Portland, is here today on legal matters which will keep him in the city for a few days.

O. H. Alkine of Denison, Colorado, is expected here tomorrow morning to visit his brother J. H. Alkine, who is ill on his home on Fourth street.

Turner Oliver who appeared before the Interstate railroad commission at Spokane, arrived home this morning.

It would be impossible to make the hundreds who witnessed the parade this afternoon believe that race suicide prevails to any great extent in Union county.

District Attorney Ivanhoe returned this morning from Portland and Salem. While in Salem he argued some Union and Wallowa county cases before the supreme court.

Thoroughly pleased in the way in which the exposition is being carried out and the apparent life and enthusiasm of the people of Union county, was the way that President Kerr of the Oregon Agricultural college expressed himself today after arriving in the city. President Kerr of O. A. C. and Prof. Alderman of the University participated in the parade and are to speak at the tent tonight.

The representatives of the big state institutions report conditions in their respective institutions as flourishing. They took especial interest in the parade as it showed off the number of pupils in the county who will be college material in a few years.

Uncle George Webb is over from Pendleton taking in the exposition.

Miss Kate Schilling who has been spending the past few months in the city of Portland, returned home this morning.

This is prize day at the fair. The judges have been awarding ribbons to the owners of the exhibits in a score of different classes and many a heart is swollen with pride as the result of the awards.

IMBLER DIET COSTLY.

Hibbard Sells 80 Acres for One Hundred Dollars per Acre.

Numerous sales of real estate have been made in and about Imbler during the past few weeks, one of the latest of which is the sale of farm land bringing $100.00 per acre. The sale was made by C. R. Hibbard to John Wells of Imbler and included 80 acres. Similar prices are customarily secured for land, demonstrating the value of dirt in that district.

Elgin Boy Killed.

Roy Bay, aged 13 years, son of Wm. Bay, who is engaged in hauling logs for Shockley's mill, west of town, was instantly killed Monday evening by one wheel of the heavily laden wagon driven by his father passing over his body.—Elgin Recorder.

Boycott on Brandy.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—Those "pestiferous Socialists," who are the bane of the Emperor and the politicians of the Empire, have broken out in a new place. This time it is a boycott on brandy. There are more than 3,000,000 Socialists in Germany, and every one has become a total abstainer, so far as brandy is concerned. This boycott is not the result of a great moral uplift among the workmen of Kaiser William's Land, but is directed against the new scheme of taxation proposed this year by the government, and recently adopted by the Imperial legislature. By this boycott they calculate that they will deprive the Imperial Exchequer of approximately $25,000,000 per annum, so that the money required to place the German finances on a more satisfactory basis will not be supplied by the recent financial reforms.

Faultless Shooting.

At the exhibition of rifle and shotgun shooting in West La Grande this forenoon by Captain Bartlett who is representing the Peters Cartridge Co., was witnessed by a large crowd of interested spectators. Mr. Bartlett has traveled for this well known company for ten years and is recognized as one of the best shots in the country. The exhibition today was faultless.

Mr. Bartlett was formerly United States Marshall, Indian scout and commander of scouts and is known throughout the country as Wounded Knee, the name being given him on account of a wound which he received in a battle with desperadoes.

FORTY KILLED.

TOPEKA, Kans. Oct. 8.—At least fifteen people were killed this afternoon, when the Santa Fe train collapsed on the outskirts of the town, which is near this city. It is not yet known how the accident happened nor the list of the dead and injured.

Eggs, Limited.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—One of the shortest names ever registered for a British corporation is that of a new company known as "Eggs, Ltd." The concern is headed by a physician, and has for its purpose the supplying of eggs to invalids and others with a guarantee that they are unequivocally fresh.

CIVIL SUIT IS DECIDED

The jury in the case of Mrs. Shaw vs. J. E. Hall of Union, involving the money due for certain apples bought, packed and shipped by Hall, returned a verdict last evening but the verdict was not opened until this morning. When the envelope was opened it was found that the defendant had won as the plaintiff had been awarded the sum of $70, which was practically the same as she got in the justice court from which she appealed to the circuit court.

Today the court was engaged in the case of Hug Brothers vs. Conrad & Neidner. The witnesses were few in this case and a decision is expected this evening.

The Rheumatic's Reasonable Hope.

Rheumatism is suspended elimination, mainly. That is to say, certain waste products are not gotten rid of by the excretory organs, and these undergo harmful retrograde changes in the system. The organism is producing these poisons in excess so that they cannot be gotten rid of as fast as manufactured. The body is thus stocked up with deleterious waste products and to overcome these it is necessary both to restore normal physiological process to cut off excess production and increase elimination. Both are natural functions and are expected to operate only when the body is in normal condition, anatomically speaking.

Hypothetically viewed, some drug might be supposed to be able to neutralize this excess of poison, but as a matter of clinical experience, alas! none does. We would all better realize the sad truth. Physicians in all these generations of experience have not been able to agree upon any single drug that will cure. Hundreds of drugs have been clothed with imaginary powers, hailed with acclaim, used a while and then passed on into disuse and forgetfulness. Waters like lithia, are called "solvents," when it is well known that "all waters are solvents"—pure water being the best in the world, while lithia waters are not more solvent than any others, and probably not as much so as pure distilled water.

Boiling out the system at hot springs and by sweat baths helps a good deal but does not often cure rheumatism. Again, I repeat, no drug cures. People who have tried them all will tell you so. Broad minded physicians say the same thing. The standard medical text books say so.

In contrast this one fact is significant. Osteopathy does cure a good many rheumatic cases, and the patients themselves tell you so. Why not try, then? It offers a very reasonable expectation of benefit to rheumatic cases. Indeed a large share of the early triumphs which made osteopathy famous were won in the field of chronic rheumatism, curing old abandoned cases that every known treatment proclaimed hopeless.—Osteopathic Health.

DR. M. P. MENDELSON DDCGTOR OF OPTICS.

Is permanently located at 1105 Adams avenue, opposite postoffice.

Never have I had the connection between headaches and eye strain brought home to me more forcibly than during this week.

One of the cases that have visited me during the past few days, over a dozen have come because of severe headaches, and this although their vision was perfect—or nearly so.

They felt that eye strain must be at the bottom of the trouble, and so came in order that, after the most careful scientific testing, glasses might be supplied, and the cause of all the trouble removed.

If you suffer from headaches, if the print blurs when reading, if you cannot sew or knit as once you did, it is certain that eye strain is present.

Why should you want to worry along with bad eyes and suffer headaches and other disorders, which are caused by eye strain? when Dr. Mendelson will give you entire relief for a comparative small cost and guarantee satisfaction in every respect.

Dr. Mendelson is endorsed by all of the physicians of the city and all the leading oculists of Portland. Every case is seen by me personally.

President E. E. Bragg, in charge of the day. Prof. Churchill of Baker City, President Kerr of O. A. C. at Corvallis, and Prof. Tuttle of Alford, the first school superintendent of Union county. Following this came a platoon of mounted students and teachers, including 24 splendid women, mostly from Cove, with Prof. Conklin, the horse fancier at their head. From this point on it was wakening delegations, each district filling the air with their cheers, shrieks and other noises. Among the marchers were little tots barely able to cover the long line of march, and intermitted applause greeted them everywhere.
