MINERS MAY YET BE ALIVE

LIVE MULES FOUND BY RESCUERS
AT ROSELYN.

Added Hope in Finding Live Men
Among Entombed Miners.

ROSELYN, WASH. Oct. 8.—Hope is now running strong in the breasts of the rescuers that at least some of the five miners that are entombed in the burning mine of the Northwest Improvement Company's shaft, where the great explosion followed by fire occurred last Sunday, may still be alive.

The rescuing parties that have been working night and day since the explosion took place, were astonished last night to hear the unmistakable braying of the mules in the mine and rushed the work of rescue with redoubled vigor. About an hour later the workmen reached eight mules all of which were alive and later were found to be as hungry as half starved kittens. Finding these animals still alive set the rescuers at work in a desperate manner in the hope that the five miners known to be still in the mine are still alive and can be saved.

TAFT CAMPS IN YOSEMITE

HOLDS PICNIC DINNER IN THE
WOODS WITH CONGRESSMEN

Devours Chicken, Potatoes and Other
Camp Edibles With Vim.

WAWONA, YOSEMITE VALLEY, Cal. Oct. 8.—"Well this beats speech-making. I wish I could have a month of this." As he spoke President Taft reached for another leg of chicken and deftly removed the meat with the means provided him by nature. The luncheon was served in the open beneath the trees on Grouse Creek. The picture of the camp party was a peaceful one. A few feet away from where the president and several congressmen were sitting with their backs propped against convenient trees, a camp stove gleamed red hot on which simmered and boiled a huge coffee pot, filling the surrounding underbrush with a delightful aroma to the tired campers. The horses belonging to the party were hobbled a short distance away and were munching their oats in a peaceful and contented manner.

Governor Gillett, Congressman Jas. C. Needham, William Englebright and Duncal E. McKinley and John Muir, the famous naturalist, were seated at the rough board table with the president. The way they all pitched into the chicken, potatoes, salad, bread, and butter with pies, cakes, and many other home cooked dishes, was a caution. After luncheon the president acted as umpire while the other members of the party played a ball game, using a young pine sappling for a bat and large pine cones for balls. Those who were not playing bused themselves gathering pine cones to be used as base balls as a large supply was needed by the players. The umpire as well as the spectators were kept busy dodging the flying pieces of balls as they came hurtling through the air in all directions from the bat.

Taft while at luncheon had a heart to heart talk with the members of the party constituting the contingent from California regarding the political condition of this state and other important questions affecting the interests of the state at large.

HOWARD HEATING STOVES

Howard wood and cold grates will burn either wood or coal

Have wood and coal grates and burn either wood or coal. No one expects to buy strictly high grade goods at the price of "cheap stuff," but some think that a high price guarantees high quality. Don't make this mistake in buying a range. Many ranges of ordinary construction are priced high or even higher than the incomparable Monarch.

WHEN YOU BUY A RANGE—
Find out what it is made of and how built! You have a right to know these things. Any man selling ranges who says, "Our range is a fuelsaver—a perfect baker," and stops there, casts a reflection on your intelligence. If these things are true of any range, there is a reason for it—a reason you can see and understand—a reason you have a right to know before buying.

We can show in a Monarch range exactly why it does what we claim. Come and see how the Malleable iron and steel plates are riveted solidly together, insuring a tight range for unlimited time. Let us explain how tight, permanent seams are possible only in ranges where Malleable iron is used. We can show you how tight, solid construction is necessary to everything you want most in your new range—prompt, sure service—long life—and fuel economy.
