FAIR NEAR THE FINISH

Farmers Already Discussing Policies For Next Year's Exposition

CO-OPERATION AND WORK THE CAUSE

With a whirl of glory and success in the ears of the producers, Union County's 1909 fair will pass into history tonight at midnight when the fair, which has been unanimously declared to have been a stupendous success will be over.

Even today the keynote of discussion among the farmers, hundreds of whom are present, is, what will be done next year. The public will demand and support a repetition of this venture in some shape or other, and plans are now being laid for the ensuing year.

The fair, with all of its success, is the fruit of honest, hard work on the part of hundreds but more especially so on the part of the directors of the Eastern Oregon Agricultural Association and the Executive Committee from the Commercial club of this city, which stood sponsor for the fair.

The attendance today was not quite up to the receipts of yesterday and the day previous, partly due to the fact that the local people who have attended day and night since the fair opened, have not turned out in so great numbers today.

Among the guests being present those from Elgin predominates. Pretty girls and boys with heaps of money to spend have "taken in" the last day of the fair.

Tonight the funpath and the amusement places will be conducted on a larger scale than ever. Free entertainment is the order of the evening.

TAFT WILL VISIT ISLAND

DECIDES TO JOURNEY TO THE PHILIPPINES IN 1911.

Would Result in Bringing The Islands and Home Country Closer.

(By Hazard, special correspondent for the United Press.)

GLACIER POINT, Oct. 9.—President Taft has decided to take a trip to the Philippines in the summer of 1911, unless some unforeseen situation arises which will prevent him from so doing. He also announced he would make a personal visit to both Alaska and Hawaii next summer and take particular note of the condition of those countries for himself.

His visit to the Philippines, however will be of far greater magnitude than has ever been attempted by any former American president. Taft explains that he would go on a fast cruiser and arrange beforehand to meet a representative party of congressmen in the Orient and would then proceed to the islands. He believes that this trip would be of great benefit to both of the countries by bringing them closer together and by causing them to arrive at a better understanding.

They also alleged that there had practically been no freight reductions made to Seattle and Tacoma from the east for the past twelve years. They said that all the growth that their business had was due entirely to local growth of the country and the Alaskan trade.
