RELIGIOUS ATTRACTION

PLAY AT THE STEWARD TONIGHT OF HIGH STANDARD.

Comes Recommended as a play of Exceptional Value.

The greatest of all religious dramas the famous play "Corianton," will be at the Steward Opera House tonight. The mere announcement of this play should be sufficient to fill the theatre.

When the play was first produced, seven years ago, press and public declared that it was one of the most magnificent productions ever seen in their city. It was played east, and still later in the principal cities of the Pacific coast. In every case the verdict was the same.

When it was decided to revive the play, those behind the movement resolved that the production must be equal to the original.

This was not an easy matter, as the play calls for a long list of capable actors and actresses, as well as four acts of magnificent scenery. Believing that the ends would justify the means, the promoters of the plan to revive the play set to work with a result that it is believed that the revival of the play in every way equals if not outclasses the original.

The part of Corianton is one calling for an actor with ability of the highest order. Alfred G. Swenson, leading man with "The Wolf" company, was secured by special arrangement with the management of that company. Mr. Swenson was a member of the original company and an understudy to Joseph Howarth, who created the title role. Luke Cosgrove, well known throughout the west, who was a member of the original production, has been secured to play the part which he created. The other characters are in the hands of experienced actors and actresses.

IMPORTANT REALTY DEAL.

Weaver Ranch of 1360 Acres Sold to Outside Parties.

"Another important real estate deal was brought to an end this week when J. R. Weaver's ranch, consisting of 1360 acres and located on the south end of the Flat, was sold to J. L. Ray of Pendleton and R. B. Thorp, of Caldwell, Idaho, recent arrivals in Elgin.

The Elgin Recorded will say tomorrow: "The price paid for the ranch was $13,600. This ranch consists of 150 acres of cultivated land and the balance is pasture and logged off land much of which, however, is susceptible of cultivation. The place is considered by all to be the best stock ranch in Union county, being well watered and situated close to outside range. Messrs Thorp and Ray will soon take possession of the purchase and will engage in the business of raising horses. They will carry a line of blooded stock and will be a valuable acquisition to Elgin's stock interests. Both men are of experience in stock raising and expect to convert this ranch into one of the best stock farms in Eastern Oregon."
