Today is Teddy Day. In other words the fifty first anniversary of the birth of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, formerly of Washington and Oyster Bay, but now of Africa. Today is also the birth day of another distinguished republican, the Hon. Whitlaw Reid, proprietor and long distance editor of the New York Tribune and ambassador to the court of St. James since 1905. Despite the rumors of his speedy retirement, it is likely that he will retain his present post for a year, so that he may have the honor of introducing Theodore Roosevelt to English society upon the latter's return from Africa.

It would not be surprising, indeed it would be surprising if otherwise—if London is not the scene of many a bloody "bread riot" during the coming winter. The placards so prevalent last year, reading: "To hell with charity—its work we want!" are again to be seen in the streets of the world's metropolis, carried by gaunt and hungry men who have been reduced to the tragedy of seeing their families starving before their eyes.

The French president, following the example set by President Taft of the United States is about to take boxing lessons and horse exercise in the hopes that he may reduce his avoirdupois. President Fallieres has hitherto avoided taking much exercise, with the result that he has put on a lot of weight.

Sir Lipton is over here once more to issue a challenge for the yacht cup. If there is anything in the old adage that perseverance wins, he may yet capture that race in the years to come. He built up quite a tea business by staying with it and he probably figures it out that the same tactics will win the cup. One thing is sure, if he doesn't keep trying he never will.

First water, and then the new sewerage system. We practically have the water and the city council is already taking steps looking forward to a city sewerage system. La Grande will soon become one of the most desirable locations in the west for home seekers. It takes time to acquire everything in a new country but we are adding new up-to-date things every year.

The many strangers who are looking over our city and valley naturally are charmed with our delightful fall weather. Eastern Oregon against the world for this season of the year.

Two steamers from Alaska the past few days have brought out a half million dollars of gold. Alaska's gold camp annually adds greatly to the circulating medium of this country and in fact is a factor in the world's supply of gold.

We can soon be calling attention to our pure water supply. A few weeks more and beaver creek will connect with the city and then we will take off our hats to no municipality in the land for pure mountain water and an abundance of it.

Next month there will be an election in a number of states but as they are mostly of a local nature little interest is being manifested generally.

The anti-betting law in California has been sustained by the court of appeals.

Salem boosters are active. They visited the Albany apple show some 300 strong.

Portland has started in to raise her $100,000 for the Rose Carnival next June.

LAWYERS ARE HOSTS

LA FOLLETTE SPEAKS INFORMALLY AT BANQUET.

Tells of Some of His Stirring Incidents in Political Life.

The local lawyers who are soon to form a bar association here, last evening tendered Robert M. LaFollette a reception at the Model restaurant. Several brother attorneys from Walla-walla county were present at the table. Mr. La Follette was the principal speaker and during his talk, which was of an informal nature, reviewed some of the famous political fights which he has gone through in his wonderful career. Though there was only about 20 years of it, he said that he would remember those 20 years always. There was nothing of set speech color to what the guest of honor had to say but he made it interesting, nevertheless.

BIG GAME CLOSE BY

CONTEST AT WALLA WALLA WILL DRAW FROM HERE.

Local Gridiron to be Seat of Very Fast Game Saturday.

Several from here are going to Walla-Walla Friday to attend the Whitman O. A. C. game which takes place there. Both schools have students from this city and the outcome will be watched with interest. While there will be big games so close to La Grande, there will also be an interesting contest here, and as the week draws to a close, the team is rapidly recovering from the effects of last Saturday's game and will be very much ready to take the Indian town team into camp. The Pendleton Academy is one of the leading teams of this section of the state.
