Haven't you caught the spirit? If you will only keep your ear to the ground you cannot but help catch the general sentiment that is crystallizing rapidly and that is that La Grande is just entering upon an era of greater development than she has ever experienced. Can you study our surrounding conditions and find any reasonable ground why this city should not build up in population. There are many reasons why it should.

There is some talk that may result in something tangible in the way of building an up-to-date fraternal building. This could be easily accomplished. There are several orders in the city that could combine and erect a building that would not only be a credit to the city but would pay for itself besides, providing commodious lodge and banquet rooms.

The third quarterly meeting of the Western Pine Manufacturer's association will be held in Spokane on Nov. 2. Over 25 of the 90 mills belonging to the association have reported to Secretary Kellogg that they will have representatives present.

A school on wheels has been established for the railroad men of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle railway, and will travel from station to station and make a loop the division points between Vancouver and Spokane, including Portland.

LOCAL PLAYHOUSES.

"Light in the Window."
 One of the best melo-dramas ever written was put on at the Pastime last night to a large and well pleased audience. The lighthouse scene in the second act was especially realistic—the storm effects being perfect.

There's plenty of comedy in the whole piece and misses Mandeville's and Mullaly's specialties were extraordinary. Owing to the illness of Mor-nay Athey, Mr. Barnett has been added to the cast.

"The Man from Kokomo."
 "The Man from Kokomo," is the title of a laughable farce with which the Edwards Comedy Company open their engagement at the Scenic theatre on Monday, November 1st. The plot of the play deals with a poor, hard up medical student, who is left in charge of his uncle's home during his absence from the city. After accepting a crazy idea that has been suggested to him, he proceeds to rent out the rooms of his uncle's house. The "Man from Kokomo" and his charming wife are among the fortunate parties. The wife is a very suspicious person and at all times keeps a sharp eye on the smaller half. The old gentleman is a man with an eye for the beautiful in the fair sex and at once proceeds to have a high old time. The poor young man who has charge of the house, gets mixed up in the troubles of the man from Kokomo, and is forced to shoulder a part of them. All finally ends happily and in its entirety the piece gives ample opportunity to display the ability of every member of the company.

One of the hardest fought gridiron battles ever held in Walla Walla is anticipated for the big game which is to be played this afternoon on Ankeny field between the Whitman varsity and the team from the Oregon Agricultural College of Corvallis, Oregon. Coach Blanchard has been busy since the recent game with Idaho in getting his men back into first class fighting condition. Although the men returned from the Idaho game bruised and sore they will enter the game tomorrow in as good condition as could be expected.

Tag The Players.
 Ankeny field has been put into first class condition and the bleachers have been moved to both sides of the field and nearer than ever before to the side lines. In order to make the game more interesting to the spectators the management has arranged the publication of a small booklet which will contain all kinds of information concerning anything like making a noise like a football around the college. A new innovation is to have each of the Whitman players numbered and his name and number will be recorded on the booklet so that by glancing at the program one can tell any Whitman man on the field. The player's numbers are to be sewed onto the backs of the suits in much the same manner as in track athletes. This is a new stunt and has never before been tried in the Northwest and the football authorities at the college will watch its impression on the people of the side lines with interest.

The Road to Success
 has many constructions, but none so desperate as poor health. Success today demands health, but Electric Bitters is the greatest health builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, purifies and enriches the blood, and tones and invigorates the whole system. Vigorous body and keen brain follow their use. You can't afford to slight Electric Bitters if weak, run down or sickly. Only 50c. Guaranteed by the Newlin Drug Co.

Aviator's Narrow Escape.
 London, Oct. 29.—Aeronaut Bleriot, and his manager, Muller, narrowly escaped death Wednesday at the hands of a mob at Bucharest, according to letters that have just been received here. The mob had gathered to see the machine fly and when the motor was found to be broken and Bleriot was unable to go up the mob became wild and attacked them. Before they could be rescued Muller was rendered unconscious from the blow of a stone.
